

The WEEK

By A. M. Brayton

IRISH peace is again in the balance, and again it is the old bitterness between the north and the south of Ireland. Were England to say "Push off and go it alone," that fight would still go on, and perhaps we should hear from Ulster about the right of self-determination. England's big job is to get north and south together. The whole world hopes that success will be achieved, and that there will be a free and happy Ireland, but the internal unhappiness of Ireland makes this very difficult.

The ease of Governor Small of Illinois is interesting and puzzling many people. Small is indicted on a charge of misappropriating public funds. His lieutenant governor and another are in the same boat.

The meat of the accusation is this: Small was formerly state treasurer. A bank was organized in which Small caused to be kept about half the state funds. State deposits in it, practically its only deposits, often ran from five to ten millions. It paid the state 2 per cent, and loaned the state deposits on short time paper for from 5 to 7 per cent. It is alleged that Small and his associates were the bank, which was merely their agency for using public funds for their own enrichment. Of course, had the money been placed in regular banks, the regular bankers would have paid the state small interest and loaned the money at higher interest. The legal point is whether it was a crime for Small to practically lend himself state money to dicker profitably with. That is a matter for the state courts. But whether or not it was a crime, it was a scandalously improper proceeding.

Illinois papers and people are lined up for and against the governor. With them it is a political fight. Friends of Small say he would not have been arrested had not his political enemies been after his scalp. This is true, but it is also true that this is one of the safeguards of democratic politics. The courts are always on the alert to show up the rascality of the ins, so they can put the rascals out and get in themselves. This is going on now in Illinois, and it is a pretty fight. However, there may be ethical people in Illinois who honestly believe that the most important question is whether or not Governor Small is guilty. If he is guilty, whether he is "progressive" or "reactionary" makes little difference. Lots of politicians could be either "progressive" or "reactionary" in a minute for half a million, which is alleged to have been Len's profit on the use of state funds.

We all remember how Woodrow Wilson went to the peace conference and a storm of protest from opposition newspapers, and how on his return these papers joined with the senate in defeating the covenant he brought back with him. Now Lloyd George wants to come to the peace conference, and the Northcliffe press opposes him. If he comes, we shall see the rest of the story repeated. The Northcliffe papers will harass him in his work and will demand that parliament reject the covenant he brings home. The best laid plans of men and women, and some not so well laid, go all awry when politics gets its hammer out.

Northcliffe is angry because he "broke" Lloyd George in the war, and was ignored by the premier in peace. However, there are things in the Northcliffe attitude which will please America. "Open covenants openly arrived at" is one thing. That "England and America shall see eye to eye the perils of the vastly populated far east" is another thing.

Anyway, there'll be a hot time in the old town when Northcliffe establishes his paper in Washington during the disarmament conference "to give America the English viewpoint," for his lordship says Lloyd George does not represent the English people.

Caruso is dead. He may have believed the story that he was getting better, but chances are that he went home to sunny Italy to die. It was a sad and a premature ending of a great career.

There is a bad habit in America of speaking of "Yaps" and "Daggers." They are mostly poor when they come here, and do rough work. They are inclined to "colonize," which makes them slow to accept the ways and standards of the country. They are sensitive and impetuous, quick to resent the slights of other races. But where they have been approached with a friendly interest, as they have in Madison, they are found eager for friendship and ready to grow into the country of their adoption.

Some people worry about this infusion of the blood of Southern Europe into America's veins. They fear it will change the entire character of our civilization, for these peoples retain their type with obstinacy when mixed with others. However, Caruso reminds us of the wealth Italy has given to the world's arts and music. Perhaps the Italian strain in the melting pot will soften the quality of our materialism and enrich our qualities. One has stopped to hear a child's voice in "Little Italy," or has heard a group

GET TO WORK ON TAX BILL NEXT MONDAY

Re-drafting of Taxation Provisions to Begin Monday and Take Ten Days

EXPECT REPEAL OF THE EXCESS PROFITS TAX

Leaders Predict Prompt Passage in the House for Measure

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Majority members of the house ways and means committee expect to get down to the brass tacks of tax revision next week. Chairman Fordney said that the re-writing of levy provisions in the 1918 law probably would begin Monday and that unless an unexpected snag was encountered the new bill should be ready within ten days. Leaders generally say house consideration will require only a few days.

With revising of the administration features out of the way, the work now before the republican committeemen is to determine the extent of the cuts possible and just where they are to be made. The general belief seems to be that the committee bill will propose repeal of the excess profits tax, but whether the effective date will be last January first or next January first, apparently remains to be determined.

WEEKS AND DENBY OUT AS CHAMPIONS OF DYES EMBARGO

Urge Restoration of the Clause to the Fordney Tariff in Letter to Committee

CLAIM INDUSTRY NEEDFUL IN PREPARATIONS FOR WAR

Declares that Gas and High Explosives Will be Badly Needed

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretaries Weeks and Denby have come out in support of an embargo on dyes and chemicals and have urged restoration to the Fordney tariff bill of the embargo provision, stricken out by the house. The attitude of the two cabinet officers was made known Saturday when Chairman Penrose of the senate finance committee made public letters from them to the committee on the subject.

The cabinet officers explained that they favored an embargo because of national defense needs.

"It is of great value to the navy," Mr. Denby wrote, "to encourage development of chemical activities in the manufacture of all products connected with explosives and gases especially by those manufacturers whose establishments can easily be diverted to the manufacture of war materials. The restoration of the embargo clause will be of material help and I will greatly appreciate assistance to this effect."

Embargo orders have been found necessary against England, Japan, France and Italy, Mr. Weeks said. He also declared that the chemical industry was vital to Germany in prolonging her efforts in the world war and expressed the opinion that high explosives and war gases would play a far more important part in future wars.

In the world war, he said, the United States had found it could mobilize, train and equip with clothing four million men far quicker than it could supply the guns and ammunition. He related how the munitions makers had worked feverishly to supply the munitions and war gases, adding that even then little was available for more than a year after the formal declaration of war.

MAINE VILLAGE IS THREATENED BY BIG FOREST FIRE

BANGOR, Maine.—Forest fires sweeping up from the southwest on a twelve-mile front threatened Saturday night to surround and wipe out the village of Howland, 36 miles north of this city. Fears are felt for the safety of the 750 inhabitants. Fire-fighters, stream fire pumps and thousands of feet of hose have been rushed to Howland from Bangor, Orono, and Orono, but latest reports from the district were that the fire was gaining headway.

PUBLISHER-CONGRESSMAN DIES DANVILLE, Va.—Representative R. A. James, 62, of the Fifth Virginia district, died suddenly Saturday at his home from heart failure. He was a democrat and publisher of the Danville Register and Bee.

ENDS LONG SPREE BY SLAYING WIFE, MOTHER, STEPDAUGHTER, BURNING BODY AND KILLING SELF

CORBIN, Ky.—Richard McHargue, 45, a machinist; his mother and wife were found dead in their home near here Saturday with the party indicated body of his stepdaughter, Thelma Atkins, 14 years old. The indications are, authorities said, that McHargue, who had been on a prolonged spree, shot his mother, beat his wife to death with a club and after slaying the girl, and burning a fire around her, shot and killed himself.

RUSSIAN PEOPLE HELD IN IGNORANCE OF AMERICAN CONDITIONS FOR RELIEF

DRY CHIEF URGES OFFICERS NOT TO BE "INTIMIDATED"

Declares Milwaukee Saloonists Injunction Applies Only to Him

SUGGESTS THAT LOCAL MEN ENFORCE THE BAR CLAUSE

Relieves Deputies for More Important Violations, He Says

MADISON, Wis.—All peace officers of Wisconsin are asked not to be intimidated "by any individual or association of individuals from performing their full duties," by W. Stanley Smith, prohibition commissioner, in a letter Saturday which counters the move made by saloon men in securing an injunction against his enforcing the sections governing bars and screens.

Mr. Smith declared that the injunction affects only himself personally and is not applicable to any other peace officer or deputy prohibition commissioner in the state. He expresses the opinion that it was secured in order to bring the law directly before the supreme court and to have its constitutionality tested.

He's Not to Assist

Holding that the injunction is not of general effect, the prohibition commissioner says that "there should be no reason why peace officers should not secure compliance with these provisions," which apply to removal or re-arrangement of bars and screens, without assistance from his department. Such co-operation will leave his deputies to devote their time and energies to less obvious violations, he says.

"You will note that the law defines the term peace officers as including sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, police officers, marshals, deputy marshals, and constables," the letter says.

"Some peace officers maintain that they are unable to secure evidence of violation due to the fact that the violators in their community know them so well that they are able to conceal unlawful activities from such officers."

"This situation can not, however, apply to the provisions of Section 20 relating to the removal of screens that a clear and unobstructed view of the interior of said place, or room from the outside may at all times be had, and for the proper arrangement of bars or counters, provided the same are not entirely removed."

"There should be no reason why peace officers should not secure compliance with these provisions without assistance from this department and thus enable my deputies to devote their time and energies to less obvious violations."

"I believe that the peace officers of this state are of a high standard and that they will not allow themselves to be intimidated by any individual or association of individuals from performing their full duties."

MILL CITY ORCHESTRA WILL BE KEPT UP; UNION TROUBLE ENDS

Backers Had Threatened to Disband it Because of Conflicts

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra whose backers had threatened to disband the organization because of differences with union musicians will continue in existence and start its season in October, it was announced here Saturday night. Disputes with the union have been smoothed out, it was said.

The local musicians' union wired its national president in New York asking that Minneapolis parks be removed from the "unfair list" which was the final point involved in settlement of the dispute. The orchestra association contended it had the right to contract for concerts in parks or any other place at any time the management decided upon. The union musicians said they could not play in the parks because of national union regulations.

Two other points involving collective bargaining and wages previously had been settled.

Photographs and Documents Cross Ocean By Radio

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—Transmission of photographs and written documents in fac simile across the ocean by wireless has been accomplished. Two successful tests of this epoch-making invention have been made within the last three days at the powerful naval radio station here, a photograph and a written message has been sent to Malmalson, the French radio station.

Two French government engineers are now in Annapolis preparing for further tests which they believe will prove the invention a complete success.

LA CROSSE SHRINE CLUB COMPLETES CEREMONIAL PLANS

Thousands of Visitors Coming to City to Enjoy Big Festival Event Saturday

ALL ARRANGEMENTS MADE TO ACCOMMODATE GUESTS

Record Breaking Crowd Promised Here at End of Week

ALL roads lead to La Crosse Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Plans for the big mid-summer ceremonial of Tripoli temple to be staged in this city Saturday, August 13, have been completed by the La Crosse Shrine club. Laboring day and night, various committees of the local club are now working out in detail plans outlined weeks ago, for the accommodation of the thousands of Shriners and their families who will journey to the gateway city for the festival event next Saturday.

"The stage will be set and we will be all ready to go when the crowd arrives," said Frank W. Sisson, president of the Shrine club of La Crosse and ceremonial director of Tripoli Shrine.

Preliminary to the big day, the executive committee of the La Crosse Shrine club is meeting at noon lunch on at the Stoddard every day to expedite final arrangements for the accommodation of the crowds. As the time for the ceremonial approaches, each day witnesses a greater accumulation of work for the committee chairman and others who are devoting their energies to arrangements for the event.

Expect Record Crowd

Advance reservations indicate a record breaking crowd of visitors in La Crosse next Saturday. All hotel rooms in the city and hundreds of rooms in private residences have been reserved for Shriners and members of their families. The fair grounds and vacant tracts near the Normal school have been set aside for parking spaces for automobiles of visitors. All down town public garages will be crammed with cars each night. Many autos will probably have to be parked on the street at night.

Fifty ringmasters of Tripoli temple will arrive here in special sleeping cars on Friday morning, with carloads of equipment to be used in the initiation ceremonies which feature the conferring of the degree upon Masons.

SLAY PEASANTS HIDING FOOD

RIGA, By The Associated Press.—The beginning of the food tax collection by the Russian soviet authorities, was marked by the execution of a group of rich peasants in the Mariopol district who had concealed their grain and were trying to dodge their tax, says a dispatch received through the semi-official soviet wireless service from Moscow. An example was made of those peasants to prevent the practice of hoarding, it is declared.

Counter revolutionary bandits in the Volga and Ural districts are destroying what grain was left in the fields.

ANTI-BUCKET SHOP CLAUSE CUT FROM GRAIN TRADE BILL

Held That Prohibition of Leased Market Wires Would Bar News to Producers

ALSO DROP PRIVILEGE OF EXAMINING PIT REPORTS

Board of Trade Spokesmen Object to Co-ops as Members

WASHINGTON.—Amendments to the Capper-Dincher bill to regulate future dealings in grain, agreed upon Saturday by the senate agricultural committee, included a decision to strike out a committee proposal to prohibit privately owned or leased telegraph and telephone lines from connecting with cities in which grain exchanges are not located. It was held that while aimed at "bucket-shops" the provision would deprive producers of means for obtaining market reports to aid in disposing of their grain.

The committee proposal to give the federal trade commission access by order of the secretary of agriculture to reports made by grain exchanges also goes out, but authority for the secretary to call for such reports and make them available to the attorney general will be insisted upon.

L. F. Gates of the Chicago Board of Trade, opposed the elimination of leased wire houses and told the trade commission examination of committee that the proposed federal authority to explore the business of co-partnerships and firms not now subject to its jurisdiction. He also contended that provisions of the bill permitting co-operative marketing associations to become members of grain exchanges to rebate commissions would be a powerful lever to corral all dealers to join such associations, threatening monopolistic control by the producers.

Senator Nelson, republican, Minnesota, in behalf of farmers of his state, protested against the rebating privilege on the ground that many farmers now deal through co-operative elevators and would not be entitled to the rebate.

DANCE ENDS NIGHT

Following the ceremonies at the fair grounds the Shriners and their wives will go to Riverside park and enjoy a dance on one of the big excursion steamers which will be leased by the Shriners for the big day. From 10 to 2:30 the boat will take wives of Shriners on a river trip.

The biggest job connected with arrangements for the ceremonial is the task of providing accommodations for meals for the thousands of visitors. The committee in charge of this feature has made arrangements for the serving of meals at a half dozen spots.

He Spurned Love Woman Explains As Murder Cause

Nurse Tells of Thwarted Passion for Lawyer She Shot

NEW YORK.—The story of a thwarted love was told Saturday by Miss Olivia M. E. Stone, Cincinnati nurse, after she had been held without bail on a charge of homicide in connection with the shooting of Ellis Guy Kinkadee, former corporation counsel of Cincinnati, near his home in Brooklyn, Friday.

In direct contrast to Miss Stone's volubility, was the brevity of Mrs. Marie Louise Kinkadee, who was preparing to take her husband's body to her former home in Covington, Ky., for burial. She only would reiterate her faith in her husband.

Nervous and trembling after a sleepless night, Miss Stone recovered her composure during the day, when she first was taken to police headquarters for further questioning and then was arraigned in magistrate's court.

Confessed in Patrol

It was while she was riding in a patrol wagon with detectives and newspapermen that she talked most freely. Sketching her acquaintance with Kinkadee she said she had met him in Cincinnati in 1918 when she nursed him for a nervous breakdown. That he then made love to her—"Oh, he was a very fast worker," was the way she put it.

That she gave him $1,000 to invest for her, but that she never saw it again.

That his love waned and she got him discharged from the faculty of the Cincinnati law school in 1920 after he had refused to marry her.

That he then had married Miss Marie Louise Gormley of Covington and disappeared—"going to England, according to his political friends."

That she had sued him for divorce, alleging herself to be his common law wife, had been awarded $5,000 alimony, but never had received a cent.

That she had purchased a revolver for her own protection, came to New York to effect a reconciliation, had located him and had had in wait for him near his home.

Now She's "Happiest Woman"

"I don't know what I did. I was so excited I felt as if I could jump from New York to Mexico without any difficulty," she said.

"Next I was in the station house. They told me I shot him in the knee. Later they told me I had killed him. 'I don't regret it at all. I'm the happiest woman in the world. Ellis Kinkadee is now in the place where the dawn comes up like thunder.'"

$461,000 OF WORTHINGTON FUNDS OVERSEAS

Government Gets Order Prohibiting Alleged Mail Theft Head From Touching Deposits

BRUTAL MURDER IN EAST MENTIONED IN THE CASE

Find Worthington Had Bonds Stolen When Messenger Was Slain

CHICAGO, Ill.—An order restraining John W. Worthington, who is being held in $100,000 bond in connection with mail robberies totalling more than $6,000,000 from withdrawing or otherwise tampering with six accounts in foreign banks, totalling $461,000, was issued today by Sidney C. Eastman, referee in bankruptcy.

The order was requested by James Rosenthal, attorney for the Central Trust company, receiver for the Worthington enterprises. The order was served on the Worthington at the Woodstock, Ill., jail, where he is being held. Banks in Germany, Poland, Rome, and Paris were named as holding deposits from Worthington.

Murder Comes into Case

NEW YORK.—The investigation into the activities of a nation-wide band of bond robbers and dealers in stolen securities Saturday became concerned with clues leading to the brutal murder of Bessie Binkowitz, a bank messenger at Milford, Conn., two years ago.

Binkowitz with $175,000 in his Liberty bonds in his possession disappeared here while on his way from one brokerage firm to another. About a month later his body was found along a road near Milford.

It is declared that John W. Worthington, alleged head of a ring, and a new accomplice whose name was not made public, came into possession of some of the stolen bonds. Federal agents refused to discuss the new developments.

U. S. PROMISES PROBE OF GRAIN STANDARDS AT COUNTRY POINTS

WASHINGTON.—Investigation of the application of government standards in wheat grading, particularly at country buying points, has been ordered by Secretary Wallace. A practical miller and economist with experienced assistants are to study "the problems connected with grading, especially in the Northwest," a department announcement said.

Secretary Wallace recently refused to change the federal grade standards for spring wheat and stated that not enough evidence had been presented to justify changes. If such evidence is found by the investigators, it was said, changes would be made, well in advance of the marketing season next year.

CHOICE OF HEAD OF STATE LIBRARY MADE NEXT MONTH

MADISON, Wis.—The state library commission will meet in September to choose a successor to the late Dr. Charles McCarthy, for twenty years director of the legislative reference library. Determination will be held until return of Mr. C. B. Lester, secretary of the commission.

A number of individuals are filing applications for the opening which is without limitation of a term of years, and carries a $5,000 salary. The board, however, has given no intimation concerning who might be the selection.

There has been no acting director since Dr. McCarthy died.

MONTANA BANKERS OPPOSE PROPOSED CHECK STAMP TAX

HELENA, Mont.—The Montana State Bankers' association at its closing session Saturday went on record as opposed to a stamp tax on bank checks as proposed to congress by Treasury Secretary Mellon declaring it would tend to retire money from circulation in this period when finances are cramped at best.

The association elected former United States Senator W. A. Clark of Butte as president.

I. C. C. REFUSES TO TAX U. S. FOR ROADS 'LABOR INEFFICIENCY'

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Court of labor allowances to railroads for the six months guarantee period following government control will include only increased wages and not alleged "inefficiency of labor" factors, under a decision handed down Saturday by the interstate commerce commission.

BIG YEAR'S WORK MARKS ACTIVITIES OF THE C. OF C.

The year has been one of exceptional activity on the part of the National Chamber, both in domestic and international commercial affairs.

In the problem of transportation and its relation to public development, the chamber, among other things, was instrumental in securing an amendment to the transportation act of 1920, which made it possible for the railroads to obtain partial payment due them in advance under the guaranty provisions of the original act. Its committee on railroads prepared a report making numerous recommendations to relieve the freight car shortage in the summer of 1920. With regard to local transportation through a referendum which closed January 3, 1921, the chamber became committed to a broad policy of conservation of existing traction facilities and regulation which will promptly follow changes under which traction companies serve the public, and with provision by the companies for publicity as to results of operation and for responsible resident management.

Labor Questions

The chamber has closely followed developments relating to railway labor and placed before the railroad labor board its opposition to proposals of organized railroad labor in favor of establishment of national boards of adjustment. In July, 1920, through referendum vote, it became committed to a program of regulation for the relations between public service corporations and their employees embodying among other things, objections to strikes by employees of public service corporations and support of a tribunal system for the national government, to adjust differences between public service corporations and their employees. In addition, in June, 1920, a referendum was taken on a statement of principles for employment relations, and reorganization of the machinery of the national government. In the former the chamber has become committed to advocacy of several principles intended to reform the government personnel policy. Questions relating to government reorganization are now being studied by the chamber and the chamber's committee on budget and efficiency. These questions are almost sure to be acted upon through legislation as the result of the organization of a congressional joint commission or reorganization. At the request of the secretary of commerce the board of directors in March authorized the appointment of committees to work with the department and to establish closer contact between the department and representative business organizations. The results already obtained promise decided benefits and the growth of the department along the lines for which it was originally cast.

Government Control of Industry

The chamber successfully opposed proposals made in the last congress under the guise of the regulation of the livestock and coal industries. Both of these measures went far beyond government regulation, and involved actual government operation of these great industries under certain conditions. Neither bill passed congress.

Taxation

Regarding the policy the federal government should follow in taxation, the referendum of the chamber which closed on January 31, committed the chamber to advocacy of a number of changes including the repeal of excess profits tax, the levying of new excise taxes upon some articles of wide use but not of first necessity and decentralization of administration of income tax. Several proposals failed to obtain the support necessary for adoption in this referendum, including questions about the income tax for obtaining excess profits tax, the use of sales tax for such a purpose, the levy of a tax upon the undistributed earnings of corporations, and payment by each individual stockholder in a corporation of his own normal tax upon dividends. The subject of taxation was given a conspicuous place in the ninth annual meeting, and as a result of the declarations adopted in that meeting, a new referendum on forms of taxation supplementing the first referendum is now under way. Through this referendum, it is hoped that the chamber's program regarding new forms of taxation will be made complete.

Government Operation

Very largely through the work of the National Chamber ever since its organization in 1912, an act has been passed establishing a budget system for the national government. Other questions relating to government operations which have had the chamber's attention, are problems relating to government employees' reorganization of the machinery of the national government. In the former the chamber has become committed to advocacy of several principles intended to reform the government personnel policy. Questions relating to government reorganization are now being studied by the chamber and the chamber's committee on budget and efficiency. These questions are almost sure to be acted upon through legislation as the result of the organization of a congressional joint commission or reorganization. At the request of the secretary of commerce the board of directors in March authorized the appointment of committees to work with the department and to establish closer contact between the department and representative business organizations. The results already obtained promise decided benefits and the growth of the department along the lines for which it was originally cast.

House Conference

The critical housing situation was made the theme for a conference held in connection with a meeting of the national councilors at the chamber in January, 1921. At this conference the subject was discussed from every angle and a number of important resolutions were adopted which are now having the attention of the chamber's civic development department.

Committees

In addition to the operations of the various departments of the chamber, the chamber has had the benefit of the services of numerous committees including the committees on ocean transportation, postal facilities, American ideals, fire waste and insurance, par collection of checks and forestry policy. The activities of these committees have consisted in studies of problems in their particular fields, cooperation with government agents and information service to the chamber's members.

Ninth Annual Meeting

The ninth annual meeting of the chamber in Atlantic City, April 26 to 29, was devoted to the theme "In the Public Interest—More Business Methods in Government, Less Government Management of Business." A departure was made from the plans of previous meetings in that although a number of group meetings held, at which subjects of special interest to each group discussed, one of the two sessions of each group was devoted to discussion of the same subjects, namely taxation and tariff policy. The other group sessions were organized around the departments of the chamber. At the final session, a number of declarations were adopted covering such subjects as international debts, railroad transportation, waterways, highways, commercial arbitration, communications abroad, disabled veterans, treatment of soldiers, sailors and marines.

National Obligation to Veterans

As the result of declarations adopted at the eighth and ninth annual meetings, the chamber is committed to the support of generous treatment of veterans of the world war but in opposition to a cash bonus. The chamber is now engaged in an active campaign in favor of proper measures for the treatment of disabled veterans of the war and for economic aid to veterans such as home building and farming, but in strong opposition to cash bonus.

Make the Attic Livable

Insulate your roof with Flaxlinum and the attic
will be as comfortable
as the rest of the house.

FLAXLINUM

Keeps the House Warm in Winter—Cool in Summer
Saves One-Third of Your Coal Bill

LOTS of attic space goes to waste because the attic is too hot in summer and too cold in winter. Which simply means that the roof does not give you enough protection from the weather.

Flaxlinum can overcome this for you. Insulate your roof with it and the attic will be as comfortable as the rest of the house.

Even if you are not going to use the attic it will pay you to insulate the roof for that's the big heat leak in your house in the winter—and the big exposure to the sun in summer.

Flaxlinum is a half-inch thick insulator that stops the passage of heat and cold through the walls and roof. Same principle as your refrigerator. It's made to fit the standard type of house construction so no special construction is necessary.

It insures comfort the year round. Keeps the house cool in the summer; in winter, keeps the house warm, regardless of blizzards and zero weather, at an actual saving of one-third your coal bill.

FLAXLINUM KEYBOARD gives the same service in a stucco house. It is a combination of Flaxlinum and a strong, tough wood-lath stucco base.

Talk to us about Flaxlinum or send for booklet giving complete information.

Why Don't We?

WE do not see how any reason or logic can be mustered to deny the statements of Senator Borah in the senate on Friday that the only way to reduce taxes is to trim down expenses; and it is almost exactly apparent that the senator spoke the truth when he said that the place where expenses could be best reduced is the army and navy appropriations. There never was a better time than the present to trim military appropriations to the bone. The world has been well-sickened of war for one generation, at least. This country is in a position of utmost safety from attack, and shows complete indifference to any schemes of foreign aggression. And we are leading the way in an effort to bring about world disarmament on a grand scale. We do not need a great army or great navy at present; and if what our country is telling the world is true we do not want one.

Why should we, then, be spending at the rate of more than a billion a year for an army and the greatest navy in the world? Secretary Mellon says that was the schedule of expenditure in June.

The administration has impeded efforts to reduce the navy and army appropriations on any considerable scale, probably through motives of caution because of the absence of an agreement with others powers that could be regarded as protection in case of trouble. But it is a question whether this position has materially added to our safety; Great Britain has launched a naval building program that is quite evidently intended as an offset to the huge increase planned in the American fleet. And we have scared the Japanese militarists into new life and activity, reciprocally reviving the "yellow peril" agitators in this country. All the way around we cannot be said to have improved the prospects of peace either for the world or for ourselves; if anything we have probably damaged them.

We hear much of the great desire of the peoples for disarmament because of the burden war establishments impose, as well as for the danger that they maintain against peace. Senator Borah points out that this burden is not felt alone in Japan, England, France and Italy. With all our wealth the United States is feeling it, too. Taxes are oppressively high more on account of wars, and preparation for wars, than for any other dozen reasons.

Armament is keeping our taxes up—in June $115,000,000 of the people's money was spent by the war and navy departments. We want disarmament. We want lower taxes. If we take the first we get the second. Why don't we? Not because we are afraid of attack, at any rate. Be it said with all humility, there is no one who dares attack us. It is our good fortune to be of all nations the one best in position to lead the way to disarmament.

Sportsmen's Ethics

ATTORNEY GENERAL MORGAN'S ruling that the rivers and lakes of the state cannot be closed to the people by owners of riparian lands answers a question that is becoming more and more important to Wisconsin as the increase of population narrows the out-of-doors range of citizens and adds to the number of those who seek its health-giving benefits. Every year sees more of the wild land "tamed," and more and more frequently in this state are sporting clubs, as a rule composed of wealthy members, buying and closing to the public the homes of the fish and game in which the whole people have an equal right and interest. Insofar as navigable water is concerned, the attorney general's ruling eliminates the unfairness of this privilege of riches, and restores to the average citizen the opportunity of sharing in nature's bounty to which his citizenship entitles him.

It seems a just as well as a technically correct interpretation, but one hopes that in their appreciation of it sportsmen will not forget that as citizens and members of the community their own personal rights are not the only considerations. The freedom which it gives to the use of lakes and streams does not include license to destroy and vandalize. It is not only rich men's clubs that have fenced off fishing waters and denied access to sportsmen. Many a farmer has been driven to the same action in self-defense against thoughtless and selfish visitors who broke fences, destroyed growing crops, and otherwise miscondacted themselves.

Such hunters and fishermen can hardly be called sportsmen, for that title is an honorable one implying a sense of fairness and decency which includes consideration of the rights of others. True sportsmen will see in Attorney General Morgan's ruling not only a welcome defense of their rights, but also an obligation so to exercise them that the rights of others shall not be infringed upon. The privilege of hunting and fishing is one of those rights which America, alone of civilized nations, extends freely to all its people, regardless of class or wealth. But it cannot be preserved if in its exercise the property and livelihood of other citizens are menaced.

Women will admit their husbands had better judgment than they did—when it came to marrying.

The eternal round of big appropriations and big taxes forms a circle that cannot be squared.

Dress reformers fear the height of women's ambition has not yet been reached.

There's a fortune for a man who can invent a reverse gear for gas meters.

CHURCH NEWS

Furnished by the Church News Association

Quakers gave more money and furnished more workers, in proportion to numbers, than any other religious body which engaged in war relief. Not only so, but they began earlier and kept at it later. Still further, they went into the most difficult fields, as into Germany before the armistice was signed, into Russia since the Bolsheviks were in full control, and into southern Ireland while agitation for national freedom was at its height. In the work American Quakers led, but they were joined in full co-operation by Quakers of Canada, England, Ireland, and Australia. In this country Hicksite lent assistance to Orthodox, and the cause of Quaker union, growing rapidly during the last decade, has been helped. An indication of the size of the work done is given by the statement, just made, that Quakers have spent $600,000 in Russian relief since Russia was closed to the outside world.

Response of Congregationalists to the appeal to lift their American Board out of its desperate financial situation is reported to be encouraging. Far worse than other societies of the same denomination, this board, the oldest missionary society in America, mounted up on its debt more seriously than any missionary society had ever done. In its report of 1920 it showed a debt of $242,500, and in 1921 that debt had grown to $420,300. It did this at a time when most other foreign societies were closing years without debts, some of them doubling their receipts.

A national council, just meeting in Los Angeles, stood by the board, declaring it has the full confidence of the churches of the denomination, that gifts have not fallen off but that expenses arose that could not have been foreseen, including high rates of exchange, and the council called upon Congregationalists to make individual gifts and pay off the debt. It was determined by council and board that if responses were favorable there would be no cutting down of work. This work is among the largest in the world, and covers many foreign countries. Now indications are that the churches will stand by.

Presbyterians of the northern states made a gain in membership last year of 55,543, or 21,000 greater gain than was made the year previous. The total membership now stands at 1,602,558. The number of Sunday school pupils is 1,433,292, which is a larger number of pupils in proportion to adult members than almost any other body in America. In most bodies adult members greatly exceed numbers of children under religious instruction. More than 60,000 members were dropped from the rolls, since it became impossible to find them. To show the changes from one body to another, Presbyterians last year received into membership 55,000 persons who had been members of other bodies. There is an almost even 10,000 Presbyterian ministers.

The total gifts of Presbyterians of the North last year, all purposes, reached $47,036,000, or almost $20,000,000 more than only six years ago. The increase was mainly in general gifts, for the amount expended to maintain local churches and build new ones increased only a little more than $4,000,000.

The Knights of Columbus have voted $1,000,000 to begin social work in Italy, at the convention of the order in San Francisco. The vote carries with it maintenance of the work, and this will take the Knights into direct missionary effort. The work is entered upon at the solicitation of Pope Benedict XV, made both to a deputation of American Knights calling upon him at the Vatican, and through many written appeals since that event. It is unlikely that any opposition to the step will develop, and that the work will have the approval of the National Catholic Welfare council and the National Council of Catholic Men. The last named will be asked to give formal approval at its meeting in Washington in September.

The work in question will be on American lines, after the plans of American institutional churches and Christian associations. It will be for both sexes, but in largest measure for young men. It is part of a plan long held by the present pope. A part of the same plan was the permission given to Italian Catholics to vote at civil elections. Now social service work by the church comes as a natural sequence.

According to the Rev. Dr. J. Stuart Holden, editor of the "Christian" of London, and a foremost evangelical leader of England, religious conditions throughout Great Britain are worse than a year ago. The Rev. Dr. Holden has just been conducting a Bible conference for Methodist ministers in Illinois, and Michigan, and is now conducting Bible classes at the Northfield Conference, the Moody headquarters in New England. Reasons given by the Rev. Dr. Holden for untoward outlook in London and the provinces, and throughout Scotland and Wales, are war effects. He named one church in London which lost every man under forty years of age, and said that hardly a family could be found that is not mourning losses from the war. He thinks America did much in the war, but that it little realizes what France and England suffered in man losses.

Last year Church of England bishops and others, assembled in a Lambeth conference, made certain advances toward Protestants looking toward union. These advances have been much discussed throughout the Protestant world. It is the conviction of the Rev. Dr. Holden that nothing will come from the Anglican approaches.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

(Prepared for the Latvian National Bank by W. E. Walker.)

With the many sales in progress during the between-seasons period of dullness, the mercantile business is evidencing a marked tendency on the part of the trade to look primarily to price tags on materials in making purchases without giving sufficient consideration to the intrinsic merit of articles, according to retailers.

This is a natural tendency following on a period when price was the prominent factor and prices were commonly compared without proper consideration of quality. Price prominence again in the foreground gives additional weight to comparative price offerings, a practice now under the ban of most legitimate merchandisers and one which had been meeting with more and more disfavor because of its frequent abuses.

In spite of many discouraging tendencies during the past half year, the July statements of some local merchants show not only good gains on quantity sales but even gains in volume of sales, receding prices notwithstanding. One Wisconsin grocer who is out and after business is at present turning over his stock once in ten days—an inspiration to merchants who are not attempting to stimulate business because they maintain there is no business to stimulate.

There has been increased group buying not only by laborers economizing but by members of salaried classes as well who are feeling the sting of high living costs—a co-operation which, perhaps, may be an evidence of the instinct to band together for mutual helpfulness in times of stress.

The financial situation is encouraging everywhere. Reserves continue to increase. The thrift habit is spreading at a good pace. As a matter of fact, however, whereas a few years ago people had the money to save but lacked the inclination, today the inclination is present but the means lacking.

The agricultural outlook is good with attention now, however, changing from production to marketing, transportation and financing of the harvest. With increasing bank reserves, the question of money should offer no serious difficulties but the marketing of crops may lead to some. The farmer is realizing that Europe's improvement affects him as well as the manufacturer.

There is encouragement at present for both farmer and manufacturer in the fact that Europe is improving gradually. Additional hope for the international situation is placed in the disarmament conference. The importance of some definite move in the direction of disarmament, the saving it would bring to tax payers, can be seen from the fact that the entire cost of running our government but nine years ago now equals the appropriation for the army and navy alone.

Although there is evidence of some increased building about the state, the national housing situation has undergone little change. There are now 117 families in this country for every 100 homes available and an investigation in New York reveals the fact that building costs are still 102 per cent higher than they were in 1913. This is entirely out of harmony with other developments as all other commodities as a whole are 31 per cent above the 1913 average.

Reductions on automobiles continue. There has been some picking up in sales but reductions have not stabilized sales, nearly as completely as it had been anticipated they would. It is evident that a large part of the public having available funds is holding off in the automobile industry—as well as in other fields.

Price uncertainty continues to be the biggest factor in deterring increased industrial operations.

Public Debate

SOME MORE HELPING OURSELVES

In connection with Chicago's "Va-gant," now on, their daily papers are full of advertisements, and none more conspicuous than the Bank Advertisements. They claim more individual chartered banks in the city than in any other city in the world. Forty-five banks made in a full page advertisement under the caption, 21,000,000 Chicagoans have $200,000,000 on deposit in the city banks. This vast sum is characterized as "Savings deposits earning 3 percent, and a corresponding in the 'Voice of the People' column says the banks have this money loaned out at 8 percent, which if true means the banks a net profit of $20,000,000 per annum.

In a recent news article in the Chicago Tribune, entitled "Home Builders Keep Plugging Despite The-ory," it is said, "Years ago the prospective home owner saved his money until he had enough to buy a lot. He saved a few years more and then built a home borrowing a little money if necessary." In the main that plan is as good today as it was years ago, and saving a surplus in the Savings Department of the commercial banks, is a good beginning, but there is a better way, and that better way would save the $30,000,000 net profits (which the banks get off the savings deposits) for the benefit of the savings depositors.

The prospective home owner must help himself. He can not expect a money lender to furnish the entire amount of equity in a property, and he must therefore accumulate enough, before he attempts to build, which he will put into the property, to insure the money lender a margin of equity. If he will accumulate his savings in his own co-operative savings bank, where the net earnings are distributed pro rata to the depositors, and borrow from his own bank on the Building and Loan Association plan of monthly amortized payments, he will get his loan at a low rate of interest, and make his systematic savings earn at least double the 3 percent commercial saving bank rate, and may be living in the home while he is paying for it in easy payments very little more than ordinary rent.

The workman and salary earner has been persistently taught by union labor leaders and other radicals that there is a great gulf fixed between labor and capital and that labor must grab off all it can to keep even with the game. The quicker and better way would be the free and independent way of a lot of English colliery miners did. They pooled their savings on pay-day. They had about $15.00. This they invested in groceries on account of the comparatively big purchase, and met at the home of one of their number, and divided the goods according to the money contributions. The saving enabled them to buy a bigger bill next pay-day, and this kept increasing until the Rochdale Equity Association is probably the largest home-supply stores in the world, and their volume of business figures in the millions of dollars. The original idea of furnishing goods to its members at cost is still its policy and practice although it has developed into a complicated business enterprise of great magnitude. Any city or community can do the same thing in America, and this sort of a thing will do more to solve the strife between capital and labor than all the appeals to selfishness and prejudice will ever accomplish.

BE FAIR

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 7, 1921.
To the Editor of the Tribune:
In fairness to all I am requesting you to publish this in your Sunday paper. I am not censuring any one regarding the law nor any officer fulfilling his duties as an officer, but to find fault with any official if he favors one and allows some one else to go unpunished. August 5 I saw an arrest of a farmer from near Galeville and he was fined by the mayor, police or some other police to the tune of $15.00 for stopping on the wrong side of the street. This was perfect.

WISCONSIN AT WASHINGTON

By Betty Pruett Farrington

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Elimination of all tax-exempt securities was proposed by A. P. Nelson, of Grantsburg, when addressing to the House in favor of an amendment to the Farm Loan Act raising the rate of interest on farm loan bonds from 5 to 5 1/2 percent. The amendment was adopted 234 to 20, on Tuesday.

"That is a thing that must be done by Constitutional amendment and must be referred to all the states for ratification in order to do away with tax exempt securities," Mr. Nelson declared. "In my judgment it is not right to tax these $500,000,000 securities of the farmers' Federal farm loan system while at the same time we let $16,000,000,000 of other securities go free and continue to be exempt from taxation. We must start on the farmer first."

Discussing measures to relieve the condition of the agricultural industry, Mr. Nelson said the distribution of even two or three hundred millions of dollars to the farmers in one year through the Federal farm loan system would probably mean liquidation of five times that amount in frozen credits today.

"This would mean over a billion dollars of credit liquidation in our country which would mean the beginning of business activity and permanent prosperity," he said. "It is absolutely essential that we aid the tiller of the soil to produce, sell, and buy, and thus start our stagnant industries in operation and put our idle millions to work."

During the course of his speech, Mr. Nelson quoted from letters from farmers to give evidence of necessity for relief legislation for farmers. Among those he brought into testimony were Governor Blaine of Wisconsin, H. A. Moehle, formerly a member of the Federal Reserve board and from Wisconsin, R. G. Nuss, secretary of the Wisconsin Implement Dealers' Association, George McKerrrow, president of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation, J. J. Jamieson, president of the Wisconsin bankers association, and C. E. Babcock, president of the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's Association.

The vote of the delegation on this measure was as follows: For: Cooper, J. M. Nelson, A. P. Nelson, Frank Voigt, Brown, Classon, Kleczka, Lampert, Stafford.

When the House adopted on Tuesday the conference report on the Sweet bill for centralizing soldier relief agencies by a vote of 267 to 4, the roll call recorded the Wisconsin delegation as follows:

For: Cooper, A. P. Nelson, J. M. Nelson, Frank Voigt, Brown, Classon, Kleczka, Lampert, Stafford.

After a long parliamentary squabble, the House recommitted to the military affairs committee on Wednesday the bill previously passed by the Senate, to provide for the distribution of German cannon and other war trophies throughout the country. There was no roll call on the measure to recommit which was passed 103 to 99.

The bill provided that the federal government should stand the expense.

It is proper as I do not uphold any one for violating the law, but why this difference between the two cases? I think it was four or five weeks ago today I saw this same officer stop and tell some one directly across the street from where he made the arrest on Friday, August 5 that he was stopping on the wrong side of the street, but no arrest was made and no fine collected. The laws must be upheld and I for one am always pleased when our officials are doing their duty, but I do not uphold any officer for punishing one and allowing another to go free for the same offense and on the same street; the only difference one was on the west side and the other on the east side of the street. Be fair and no one has a right to make a complaint, nor no one will. Respectfully yours,
JOHN MULDER, 502 Rose St.

TALK TO THE OWNER

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 6, 1921.
Tribune:
Say, why don't you sweep before your own door. You publish articles about people cutting down the weeds, and you have them growing in abundance right almost in front of your own door. The lot next door south, is full of noxious weeds and should be cut in order to comply with all the laws of decency. Better take a look at them and have them cut down right off; think of the poor hay-fever sufferers who have to pass these weeds! Get busy, Tribune.

FINANCIAL SERVICE STATION

Note—Send in any questions regarding any money matter or financial matter and their application to your particular affairs, about banking or trust company business, about business conditions in general, to the Financial Service Station, care The Tribune and Leader-Press, and questions will be answered generally to the best of the Latvian National Bank.

Dear Sir:
Can you tell me where I can get some good material on what the costs to the farmer are for the government in banking you for this information, I am, Sir,
Answer:
The Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., will send you on request a free bulletin Number 341 on "Cost of Producing Wheat." This should contain the information you are after.
Gentlemen:
What is the difference between an executor and an administrator and what does a trust company charge for acting as either?
Answer:
An executor may be either a trust company or an individual who is named to carry out the provisions of the will. An administrator may be either a trust company or an individual named by the court to divide an estate when no will is made and hence no executor named. An executor carries out the provisions of a will while an administrator divides the estate as the law provides when no will is made. Character of this service are the same when an individual or a trust company serves in either of these capacities and the charges are regulated by law. In the United States the charges for this service are as follows: $50 for the first $1,000.00; $10 for each $1,000.00 thereafter, and $1.50 per day for services.

Dear Sir:
Is there any definite ruling at present with regard to the use of the American flag in advertisements? The enclosed U. S. Shipping Board ad carries a flag at its top. Wouldn't it be proper for a manufacturer to follow the example?
Answer:
The use of the flag for advertising purposes is prohibited by law in 43 of the states and carries a fine of $500 to six months imprisonment, or both, if the government itself, or a recognized agency of the government, such as the Shipping Board, can lawfully make use of the flag or of any government insignia for that matter.

Financial Service Station:
I heard something this week about the organization of another giant automobile company entering the field. Can you give me the details on this?
Answer:
You probably refer to Durant Motors, Inc., which had been in the process of organization for some time and which is rumored, plans to complete direct-ly with General Motors. Just this week the Durant Motor Company announced the formation of the new organization. It is said that they intend to popularize the Sheridan car and then put out models which will compete with the Chevrolet, Oakland, Buick and the Cadillac, General Motors products. The feature of the work of the new organization will be that the law allows manufacture all major parts in a general Michigan factory, perhaps at Lansing, and then send the parts and ex-over the country where the cars will be assembled and sold.

MINDORO CUT IS SECOND DEEPEST HIGHWAY CUT IN THE UNITED STATES

La Crosse county bears the distinction of containing the second deepest highway cut in the United States. There are many deeper railroad cuts, but Mindoro cut, La Crosse county, on highway 108, between West Salem and Mindoro, is, from all records obtainable, surpassed by only one, and that in California, where an exceptionally deep cut was necessary. Mindoro cut is 78 feet deep, through solid sandstone rock, and makes a striking appearance. From the heights overlooking the cut a sweeping view of the valley below is obtainable. The cut is a few miles north of West Salem.

The cut is valuable not only for its appearance and the beauty of the surrounding country, but is an economic asset to the community. During 1918, figures were gathered by West Salem business men as to the amount of business which traveled through the cut that year and the value of the product hauled. The value of the livestock was estimated at $450,000, and butter $70,000. These figures include only products hauled from Mindoro through the cut and not those hauled back.

The total cost of the cut was $11,241.29.

Autoists of La Crosse and tourists know the cut principally because of the delightful trip which the road passing through it affords. Hundreds of cars pass over the highway every day, and on Sundays a constant stream of cars may be seen passing up and down the winding scenic road leading to the cut on either side of the divide.

Candy From Cactus
Quite a large business has been worked up by a resident of Phoenix, Arizona, who makes a delectable sweetmeat from the cactus of the desert thereabout. What is known as the Visnaga cactus is selected for the purpose and the process of transforming it into candy covers a period of two months. There are several cooking operations, each lasting many hours, between which the material is allowed to stand once for two weeks.

Roman Glass Makers
Rome is supposed to have entered upon glass making only some 300 or 400 years before the Christian era.

She brought it into the empire along with her other conquests. Alexander Severus, 220 B. C. levied a tax upon its manufacture within the imperial city, and in the reign of Tiberius the glass makers had an entire street to themselves in the Porta Capena.

United States production of dyes exceeded $2,000,000 pounds last year.

Saving does not mean self-denial

TO save money you need not be miserly or deny yourself a reasonable share of the pleasures of life. Scientific saving is simply Thrift. It means arranging your expenses according to a definite schedule, so that the amount you spend is a little less than the amount you earn. You will find saving easy if you take the trouble to "budget" your expenses.

A Thrift Account with us is the most convenient and profitable way of taking care of your weekly or monthly saving.

SOUTH DAKOTA BANK ROBBED; BANDITS GET AWAY WITH THOUSAND

Lock Cashier in Vault and Make Getaway in Stolen Automobile

FULTON, S. D.—Posses organized by the sheriff of Hanson county are tonight searching for two men who Saturday morning held up the Farmers' State bank here and escaped with currency, estimated at from $500 to $1,000.

The two robbers, unmasked, drove up to the bank in an automobile, believed to have been stolen from Mitchell, 100 miles west. Friday night. Leaving the engine running they went into the bank where Ellerie J. Branch, cashier, was alone. Covering him with pistols they cleared out the money till and then compelled Branch to open the safe. Locking Branch in the vault the men then drove off.

Six miles north of Fulton the man carrying the money, entered another car, which was waiting. Cashier Branch was liberated in half an hour by his father, called to the bank by two customers, who entered after the robbery.

This One Failed

ALBERT LEE, Minn.—C. C. Merritt, who said his home is at Mason City, Iowa, was lodged in the county jail here Saturday night after he is alleged to have attempted to hold up the bank of Geneva, fifteen miles north of here.

John Schind, bookkeeper, was alone in the bank when Merritt entered and pointed a pistol at him. Schind jumped out of a window and notified authorities. Merritt fled in an automobile and was overthrown by a posse two hours later near Ovatoma.

According to Sheriff Koss, Merritt said he had no intention of holding up the bank, but got into an argument with Schind which ended in a fight. Merritt is being held without charge pending action by the county attorney.

HORSE CHAMPION

SAYS HE'S REPLACING
SOME AUTO TRUCKS

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The demand for horses is growing in the United States, and the demand is exceeding the supply. Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse Association of America, told delegates to the National Harness Manufacturers and Leather Goods Dealers' convention in Milwaukee today.

Mr. Dinsmore said that a campaign which has been conducted under the auspices of the Horse Association of America, an organization made up of all the horse interests and its allied industries, is bearing fruit to the extent that many large users of auto trucks are displacing them for horse drawn vehicles. "It is demonstrated beyond a shadow of a doubt," Mr. Dinsmore said, "that the horse is an economic necessity in the transportation activities of the nation."

of Italian workmen singing over their noonday luncheon. We are criticized as a nation for our indifference to music and the arts. One can pick out a large sprinkling of Italians in the audience where classical music is rendered. From childhood they are all potentia artists. It is a great heritage, and one of which they well may be proud.

The cry from Russia that America's plan to feed the starving millions over there is a scheme to overthrow the soviet government is one that would be uttered by no government that has justice and practicality on its side. One has heard of governments being overthrown by starvation, but it must indeed be a weak government that could be overthrown by feeding its starving. The fact of starvation itself is a sufficient indictment of the soviet as incompetent. Should the contrast between the comfort and security of democracies such as ours and the Russian experiments, made vivid by the coming of our food, serve as a lesson to the Russian people, the teaching would be inherent in the situation, not propaganda. We have fed the starving in Belgium, in the Germanic countries, in Armenia and in China. These acts were inspired by the conscience of a great and competent people. We feed starving Russians for the same reasons. A government that objects to the rescue of millions of its own citizens from imminent peril of death is indeed unworthy of its trust.

The "Black Sox" were acquitted by a jury "for want of evidence." There has been no more shameful case. The theft of the evidence against them was in the interest of the accused, and that they had a guilty knowledge of it might be regarded as no wild flight of fancy. Whole or partial confessions were made, and during the first panic there was little attempt to deny. The impudence of one of the players who, on acquittal, thanked the public for "having stood by him" is amazing. Sports suffers heavily by this experience, and the courts are not honored by it. However, the stand of Judge Landis, who says the ban against these players still stands, has done his best to save the game from totally bad odor. It is too bad that these men were not made examples to warn sportsmen that punishment and obloquy are the penalty for graft against the national game.

FOURTH BODY IS EXHUMED IN BIG POISON MYSTERY

Coroner Declares Corpse Shows Signs of Death By Unnatural Cause

CHICAGO, Ill.—The exhumation of a fourth body and the apparently mysterious disappearance of $15,000 marked the investigation Saturday of the deaths of John Deumer and Fred Kolze and his wife by poison. Mrs. Deumer, who was questioned regarding the deaths, was released on bonds Friday.

Acting with Coroner W. V. Hoff of Du Page county, Coroner Peter Hoffman exhumed the body of Mrs. Lena Kolze from a grave in St. Joseph cemetery, just over the Du Page county line at Bensenville.

The vital organs were removed and brought to Chicago for analysis. "The appearance of the body indicated that Mrs. Kolze died while in good health and probably from an unnatural cause," said Coroner Hoffman.

The coroner also told of an interview with Mrs. Elizabeth Murwood of Bensenville, mother of Mrs. Fred Kolze, who said she gave her daughter $15,000 which has never been accounted for since her death.

AMATEURS REFUSE TO PLAY BLACK SOX

SHEBOYGAN, Wis.—Seven former members of the Chicago American league baseball team who were recently acquitted by a jury of charges that they took part in a gamblers' conspiracy to throw the 1919 world series games, were refused permission to play against the "Chattanooga" of the Lake Shore league, it was announced Saturday. It was declared that B. L. Siekmeyer of Chicago, sought an exhibition here for the former White Sox.

CHICAGO UNKNOWN BEATS WORLD CHAMP IN 100-YARD SWIM

John Weissmuller Shows Norman Ross His Wake in Central A. A. U. Tourney

DULUTH, Minn.—The Illinois Athletic club's "Dark horse" John Weissmuller sprang the big surprise of the Central A. A. U. swimming meet here Saturday, when the defeated Norman Ross, world's champion and a strong field, in the 100-yard event. His time was 55 1-5 seconds.

Duluth Boat club swimmers made an excellent showing, with Miss Frances Colman winning the 100-yard woman's central A. A. U. title. She covered the distance in one minute and 24 1-5 seconds.

Norman Ross had little difficulty winning the 500-yard swim, in 12 minutes 31 1-5 seconds.

In the 340-yard woman's central A. A. U. title event, Miss Margaret Woodbridge of Detroit, was first, with Miss Colman and Miss Grace Lewis, both of the Duluth Boat club second and third respectively. The winners time was 6 minutes 54 seconds.

Weissmuller also won the 50-yard national championship, with Topp of Chicago, second; Gow, Duluth, third, and Norman Ross, fourth. The time was 23 1-5 seconds.

DULUTH CLEANS UP IN NATIONAL SCULL CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

Wins Four Out of Seven Events and Local Star Beats Philly Sculler for National Title

BUFFALO, N. Y.—The colors of the Duluth Boat club were carried to victory in four out of the seven events on the closing day of the forty-seventh annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen Saturday and Walter Hoover, the young sculler of the same aggregation is the national champion for 1927. The Minnesota club also won the regatta.

Hoover's chief contender in the single championship was Paul Costello of the Vesper Boat club of Philadelphia. The pair came over the first mile of the course so close together that from the grandstands it was impossible to tell which had the advantage, but in the final quarter Hoover moved up into the lead. Costello accepted the challenge and made a desperate try to overtake the flying Minnesotan. Hoover, however, had something in reserve and finished two lengths ahead in 7:43 3-5.

The only disqualification of the regatta came from the judge's boat Saturday afternoon. Vesper Boat club of Philadelphia finished first in the senior fours, but the claim of a foul by the Duluth crew was allowed. The foul occurred at the mile mark. The Vespers in the lead, eased their stroke and veered over in the path of the Duluth skiff just close enough to cause the tip of the sculls in the two craft to touch. Duluth finished the race only a length behind the Vespers, the claim of foul being made after the boats were across the finish line.

Typical Shriner Letter
Among hundreds of letters received by President F. W. Sisson from Shriners, preliminary to the big event, was one from Frank W. Stare of Wausau which is pronounced a characteristic Shriner letter and a masterpiece. The epistle follows:

"Mr. Frank W. Sisson, Wisconsin. Wisconsin. Mr. Duran Noble: I see by the 'Tattler' that you are the President of the Trippel Shrine club of La Crosse. By virtue of your office you are, therefore, the official grand boy for all of the Nobility of Wisconsin, also.

"Ever since I first heard of the pilgrimage across the burning sands of Wisconsin, to 'La Crosse on the beautiful Mississippi' I had planned on having 'Business' there August 13th. Then I pulled a boner; made a technical error.

"I took the 'Tattler' home with me the other evening. The Missis got hold of it and remarked that she thought it would be nice to drive to La Crosse. I told her she wouldn't like it, that there wouldn't be anything for her to do. She pointed out to me that the ladies were especially invited. For this I hold you more or less personally responsible. For, like the clown, you may not own the circus, but I take it you have a hell of a lot to say.

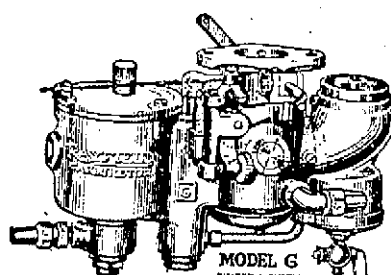

"My small boy said to his mother, 'Do all fairy stories begin with 'Once upon a time.' She replied, 'No, son, most of the ones I heard begin with 'I am going to judge tonight.' So you see, I can't even use that one. There is nothing to it. I have simply got to crank up the old flivver and take her.

"I have got to have a place to park the wife. Will you please reserve a room with a bath. The room is for the Missis, and the bath is for me. 'If the La Crosse Shrine club functions, as I know it will, I don't expect to need a room. And if Harry Bonnell and his gang run true to form, as I know they will, I know I will need a bath.

"Thanks, Noble, I will do as much for you some time.
(Signed) "FRANK T. STARE."

RULING ON RIPARIAN RIGHT OPENS 3,000 LAKES IN WISCONSIN

Declares Shores Back to High-water Mark Cannot be Fenced

MADISON, Wis.—Nearly 3,000 lakes of Wisconsin have their shores completely opened to the public. If the courts uphold the opinion of the attorney general's department given yesterday, 12 E. Brossard, assistant attorney general who wrote the opinion, said that it was of far-reaching effect in bringing the public waters into use and said that it was almost certain of being sustained.

Private individuals who are said by the conservation commission to be monopolizing many bodies of water, are restrained from declaring the shores back to the high water mark private property subject to trespass. High water mark is described as the beach or space over which water sometimes reaches.

Fences Prohibited
These shores are entirely open, with private individuals prevented from constructing obstructions that would close the shore from the public. Fences are specifically said to be unlawful in the opinion.

Hunters and fishers of the state, if able to reach the shore over a public highway can not be prevented from shooting game or fishing for any kind of fish without consent of abutting property owners. The lake waters of the state are entirely opened to the public for every purpose.

UNCLE SAM GETS INCOME TAXES ON VANDERBILT GIFTS

Bequests of $950,000 from Lusitania Victim are Held Taxable

NEW YORK.—The government Saturday won its suit to collect income taxes on guests of $950,000 left by the late Alfred G. Vanderbilt to his brother, Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Frederick L. Merriam and Henry E. Anderson. Judge Hand over-ruled demurrers by the three defendants which questioned whether "legacies" so given are exempt as bequests or are liable to income tax as compensation for personal service.

The judge's ruling said it seemed to him to be no question whatever that these legacies in part were compensations for personal services and granted judgment to the government. Alfred G. Vanderbilt was drowned when the Lusitania was sunk in May, 1915.

TWENTY-TWO GIRLS ENJOY FINE OUTING AT COUNTY SCHOOL

Second Annual Domestic Science
Course Interesting Event
for the Pupils

GIRLS SLEEP IN THE SCHOOL SEW AND COOK THEIR MEALS

Each Pupil Makes a Dress During the Short Term

The second annual domestic science course and camp outing given by the La Crosse County School of Agriculture and Domestic Science closed July 30.

Twenty-two girls enjoyed the course and outing this year. The course was organized by Principal L. C. Hatch and Miss Teare, head of the domestic economy department of the school. Two specialists, Miss Gladys Schuman, food specialist, and Miss Gladys Meloche, clothing specialist, under the guidance of Mrs. Nellie Ked-zie Jones from the University, assisted in administering the course. The assembly room of the school was turned into a dormitory which provided sleeping quarters for the girls and the instructors. The girls in attendance were required to bring their bedding; everything else needed for their comfort was provided at the school. They were divided into two groups, one group sewing, while the other group was given instructions in cooking. The groups changed each day so that both groups were instructed in sewing and cooking each day of the course. Every girl in attendance succeeded in making herself a dress during the five days which the course lasted besides being required to plan, cook and serve six meals. Other points that were emphasized included the setting of the table, the serving of meals, waitress work and table manners. The dormitory work was done by the girl, each being required to take care of her own bed.

Social Time Enjoyed
The afternoons were spent in having a good time. Tuesday afternoon the sanitarium was visited where special attention was given to the ice plant, the mangle and kitchen. Thursday afternoon the girls were taken for an auto ride through La Crosse where they visited the parks and were shown many other places of interest. Friday afternoon they were taken to La Crosse and treated to a movie show. Saturday noon a picnic dinner on the school campus was enjoyed by all after which the girls left for their several homes. The value of such a course besides the real instruction received by the girls can hardly be overestimated. The girls were from all parts of the county. No girl knew but a few of the others when they assembled on Tuesday morning, but by Saturday morning had enlarged her acquaintanceship and had made new friends from remote sections of the county. The young people of the county are bound together by the ties of friendship which is sure to be a great factor in cultivating a spirit of good will throughout the county. Thus the influence of the County School of Agriculture and Domestic Economy is being felt and is rendering a service which could be rendered through no other institution. Constant association with the instructors can not help leave impressions that, though unnoticed at the time, are of educational value. Very few girls have an opportunity of this kind.

The cost per person for the entire week was $3. Following is the day's program for the girls in attendance together with the names of those enrolled:
Daily Routine
8:30—First rising bell.
8:45—Second rising bell.
9:15—Gymnastic drill out of doors.

SOUTHERN RUSSIA HAS TOO MUCH AND NORTH IS STARVING

Train Service Collapses—Only
One Train a Week Between Moscow and Kiev

WARSAW—Russia's transportation difficulties, because of the general deterioration of the railroads under the bolshevik regime, according to Moscow reports, have brought about an odd situation. While southern Russia has a surplus of corn and has been endeavoring to export it to Italy, northern Russia has been buying the same kind of grain from foreign countries. The railroad situation is said to be particularly bad in central Russia and only recently it was reported that the service between Moscow and Kiev had been reduced to an average of one train a week for freight and passengers. Russia's metal production is reported to have reached but two per cent of the prewar figures, the coal production about 20 per cent and the oil production 40 per cent. Fewer babies are born in June than in any other month.

The Personal Side of our Trust Service

DON'T get the mistaken idea that our service as Executor or Trustee is cold, impersonal and automatic.

We are strictly businesslike in all that regards the safe and efficient handling of trust matters, but we never forget the importance of a human, friendly interest in the problems of those whose affairs have been intrusted to our care.

By appointing us to settle and manage your estate, you provide not only efficient management and safe investment for your heirs, but also the personal interest and friendly counsel of our officers.

A talk with us on this subject may give you a new idea of the importance of efficient trust service as applied to your affairs.

One Thing We Do Not Do

"Ah 'clares to goodness, Ah just rubs de daylight out ob dem things, an still de're not clean," cries the old colored laundress.

And literally she does rub the daylight out of things.

That is one thing we do not do—we've discovered a better way of cleansing—a gentle, certain way that produces aseptic cleanness without wearing or weakening the fabric.

Drop in some day and watch our modern washing machines at work—see how oceans of pure, soft water and suds of mild, white soap surge through and through the fabrics, washing every trace of soil away.

Then you'll readily understand why no rubbing is necessary—why your dainty things, sent to us, last so much longer.

Let our representative call for your family bundle this week—a phone call will bring him, promptly.

GIRLS HAVE LONG TIME TO BE SORRY AFTER BOBBING HAIR IF THEY DON'T LIKE IT

Before bobbing your hair, girls, many girls find that when they want to look their prettiest—which is most generally always—they have to spend more time on their hair than before it was cut.

"It takes about three years for the hair to grow again after it has been cut," said Mrs. Rose L. Waters, when interviewed on this subject by a Tribune reporter. "Although in about a year it gets long enough so that it can be 'done up.'"

"Yes, we have been very busy bobbing hair lately," continued Mrs. Waters. "It seems to be especially popular among the 'physical ed' girls at the normal school, because they say it is so much more convenient."

But the girls find, according to Mrs. Waters, that after all bobbed hair does not save them much bother unless their hair is naturally curly. So much time has to be spent in curling it that card up her sleeve when it comes to improving her appearance. The girls who find they do not look well with their hair bobbed, said Mrs. Waters, can always buy some more hair, and arrange their coiffure so that no one would ever know they did not have long hair.

Nevertheless, think it over carefully, girls, before you decide, because it is a very serious step.

SOVIETS CALL OFF PROPAGANDA—SEND APPEALS FOR HELP

LONDON.—The Soviet authorities have decided to send three special delegations abroad on behalf of starving Russia, declares a Reval message forwarded by the Exchange Telegraph Agency from Copenhagen.

Prof. Bechterev, formerly of the University of Petrograd will head the delegation to England, France, Spain and the United States, the message says.

Meanwhile, asserts the dispatch, Soviet representatives abroad have been ordered to suspend propaganda work. It is also reported that orders for machinery and other goods will be held up, the money remitted being used for the purchase of food.

The Walrus

"The time has come," the Walrus said
To talk of many things
Of shoes and ships and sealing wax
Of cabbages and kings.

BY C. A. W.

Although I have never crossed the hot sands or enjoyed the distinction of wearing a fez, I have, nevertheless, been impressed by the elaborate arrangements being made by nobles of Tripoli Shrine here for the big mid-summer ceremonial which the Milwaukee organization will stage in La Crosse August 15. Anyone with half an eye can observe that all this bustle and bustle, weeks before the appointed day, portends something big, and there isn't the slightest doubt that La Crosse, next Saturday, will witness the greatest gathering of visitors ever seen in this city. Accompanied by bands and patrols, nobles of the Shrine are coming, in special train and by auto, from four states, to attend the Gateway city's biggest fest. A run has to be a top-notch citizen to become a shriner if I get my Masonic "dope" straight. This means that La Crosse will be the mecca next Saturday of several thousand pilgrims representing the highest types of citizenship—men who achieve big things in the professions and marts of trade in their respective communities. Therefore, it behooves La Crosse to put on her best bib and tucker and extend the glad hand to the nobles who will take possession of the burgh next Saturday. These Shriner chaps are worth cultivating.

To show what the officers of Tripoli temple already think of La Crosse, I take the liberty of quoting Henry F. Zarso, illustrious potentate, in a recent issue of the Tripoli Tablet: "Nobles: Tripoli's next great event will be the second annual midsummer ceremonial session to be held at La Crosse Wis., on Saturday, August 15. The La Crosse Shrine club projected a big task when it requested Tripoli to put on the work, but at the same time the members have accepted their own task with a vigor and an energy that spells success with capital letters. The La Crosse nobles are straining every effort to make this ceremonial on the banks of the Father of Waters, the event of Shrinehood in the Mississippi Valley. A splendid organization has been created by President Sisson to handle the project. There is a place for everybody and everybody seems to be chosen for the right place. It would be difficult to even imagine a more enthusiastic group of Shriners than that which greeted us at the evening dinner given in the Masonic temple, when the La Crosse Shrine club met with us to discuss arrangements. We were able to meet every one of the workers in person and were deeply impressed with the caliber of the men with whom President Sisson has surrounded himself. They were all simply 'rearin' to go!'"

An idea of the elaborate nature of the entertainment provided for this fest may be gleaned from the fact that Tripoli temple is spending between $15,000 and $20,000 on the event. No financial assistance is asked of any La Crosse businessman or organization. Merchants may decorate the fronts of their stores, if they desire—that is about as far as they can go toward assisting the local nobles in preparing for the big day. The Shriners put on their own entertainment, and incidentally also provide fun and spectacular features for the populace here to enjoy. Some class to this kind of a convention, I would say.

Clement C. Smith, president of the company which operates the local street railway system and a number of other utilities in this state and Minnesota, was elected president of the Baltimore Dry Docks and Shipbuilding company, at a meeting of the board of directors in the Maryland city, succeeding Holden A. Evans, who resigned at the same meeting. Mr. Smith, I understand, is president of the Marine Securities company and as such has represented the financial interests of the Baltimore Dry Docks and Shipbuilding company since its purchase by himself and associates.

Mr. Smith will continue to reside in Milwaukee, making occasional trips to Baltimore to look after the shipbuilding company.

I understand that Charley Marboe, who for a number of years was assistant manager of the Listman Milling company here, is now general manager of the Hormel Milling company at Austin, Minn. This job pays a mighty comfortable salary and gives Mr. Marboe opportunity to demonstrate his executive ability and initiative in a field where he is very much at home. It's a clutch Charley will make good.

CAMEL'S CAPERS THEATER EVENT FRIDAY EVENING

Shriners of Eau Claire to Put on Big Show Here Night Before Ceremonial

In spite of the success of the "Camel's Capers" show as staged at Van Claire, dress rehearsals are being held weekly so that the performance as staged here will be professionally presented. Outside of the opening act, "The Oriental Mimicry Medley Mix-up," each performer is responsible for his own act. This sketch is packed with cross fire comedy—lines compounded with singing and dancing novelties enriched by an oriental setting and tinged up with a number of oriental mechanical innovations. There are enough characters present to make one believe he is attending an international convention of the League of Nations. Ethiopians and Swedes, full dress fanatics and Arab culprits are on a par with Broadway bums and oriental dancing women.

S and S in S of S will throw a good laugh over the footlights. This is not difficult to translate once you have the code key. It is Stuss and Slagsoval in the "Sultans of Snads" their own original creation. Big Lind, as the picturesque Caliph of Baghdad, will sing "Sea of the Desert." Gerdo, long known as Prince Puzzle, will continue his black art and Hindu Necromancy, fooling the eye and leaving the mind a perfect blank in a new mystery explaining how the fish got in the river when the Nile never opens its mouth. Hunter will impart four minutes of pathos to a situation devoted exclusively to the comic except for the brief space needed for Ralph Hutchins to exclaim "Who runs this joint?" This utterance is

FIRST CLINICS HELD IN CENTERS IN THE COUNTY ARE DECLARED BIG SUCCESS

Elsie Burkhardt, County Nurse, Says Few La Crosse Infants are Underweight; Most Parents Dress Babies Correctly for Hot Weather

THE first infant welfare clinic to be held at certain centers throughout La Crosse county has nearly been completed by Elsie Burkhardt, county nurse. It has proved a wonderful success and, according to Miss Burkhardt, has accomplished more and better results than months of individual work could have done because it has aroused practically all the parents of the county to the need of greater application on their part for the betterment of the health of their offspring.

Clinics have been held at West Salem, Bangor, Rockland, Campbell hall, Midway, Onalaska, Newburg's Corners, Greenfield town hall and Shelby. Clinics probably will be held on French Island and Burns late in August or in September.

Home Welfare Work

Infant welfare work had previously been accomplished in this county by individual home calls. This was tedious work. Excellent results were obtained, of course, according to Miss Burkhardt, but the home visits lacked the atmosphere that entices folks such as is evident where a clinic is held and a number of mothers bring their children to be examined and where they may have an opportunity to see other mothers and babies and observe their state of health, how they are dressed and how they behave.

One hundred and fifty infants were brought to the clinics. The towns which had the greatest percentages of children at the clinics and who were represented by the greatest numbers in their order are: West Salem, Rockland, Bangor, Onalaska and Midway. Only a small percentage of the children were underweight. Out of 60 examined only 12 were two pounds and a fraction underweight. This, according to Miss Burkhardt, doesn't mean that the 12 infants are suffering any serious ailments. They are of various ages and can't be grouped under one heading nor expected to come up to or very near one set weight.

Physicians Give Services

The physicians, who examined the infants at the clinics and who gave their services for the good of the community's health, did not attempt to prescribe for the children. For example, the infant was weighed and carefully examined. If the "patient" was underweight, the doctor told the mother about it, and suggested that something might be done to have the child add to its weight by means of correct dieting.

Correct Feeding Paramount

There is scarcely an infant in La Crosse county that cannot grow to healthy, vigorous childhood and youth if they are correctly fed, asserts Miss Burkhardt. Correct dieting, or in more simple language what to eat and what not to eat, well-balanced meals, food that is varied and gives the most nourishment is Miss Burkhardt's opinion, the paramount need in all households, and it is this message that she has sought to impress on mothers who attended the clinics and on parents at whose homes she visited when conducting the home infant welfare work.

Clothing for infants is another important matter to be considered by mothers, declares Miss Burkhardt. Few children who were brought to the clinics were overdressed; most of them were comfortably attired for the hot weather. The same care and forethought should be given the subject of children's clothing in winter as well as in summer. Incidentally, the day is passing when it is considered the proper thing to dress a child in heavy underclothing when the first cold snarls arrives and virtually sewing the unhappy young man or little lady in swaddling underwear, and keeping the same apparel on the child on all winter, making it almost necessary to use a can opener to free the little prisoner in the spring. No, it is not fashionable nor sanitary, if it ever was sanitary, to do that sort of thing any more.

The following physicians were in charge of the various clinics, giving their time freely and without cost to the county or individual parent: George Lueck, H. H. Wolfe, Jens Roscholt, W. E. Bannan, J. A. Evans, Walter Jones of La Crosse; C. F. Wakefield of West Salem and Owen Evans of Bangor.

Women Aides at Clinics

A list of the women who aided Miss Burkhardt and the doctors at the clinics and who likewise volunteered their services are: Mrs. Earl Mengel, Bangor; Mrs. Mary Jane Evans, Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Hesselberg, Rockland; Mrs. Gladys Johnson, Mrs. Henry Drektrah and Mrs. Johnson of West Salem; Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Tripp of Campbell; Mrs. Tempra of Midway; Mrs. Maude Van Loan, Mrs.

S. P. Markie, Mrs. George Herold, Mrs. George Hoeth and Mrs. Adolph Selter of Shelby; Mrs. Egger, Greenfield; Mrs. Chapiewski, Mrs. Wuench, Mrs. Strupp and Mrs. Lusk of Washington; Mrs. Will Keppel of Mindoro, and Mrs. F. H. Kinney and Mrs. Barber of Onalaska.

In the accompanying photographs are shown some of the parents, infants, doctors and assistants at some of the clinics. The large picture of the clinic at West Salem, which is typical of all the clinics so far as equipment is concerned, shows Elsie Burkhardt, county nurse, at the extreme left. The picture also shows the children's bath tub at the lower right hand corner, then the scale and basket for weighing the infants while on the table are various foods and preparations. The clinic equipment is portable, Miss Burkhardt taking it with her in her auto from town to town whenever a clinic was to be held, going to town hall or school house and setting up her traveling examination room.

Those in the Pictures

Among those in the picture of the West Salem mothers and others at the clinic in that town are: Mrs. Harold Rooker; Mrs. Elmer Mau and Mrs. Drektrah, assistants; Mrs. Herman Green, Mrs. Jacob Green, Mrs. Dean Jeffers, Mrs. Angus Johnson, Mrs. Herbert Lund, Mrs. C. W. Nicholson, Mrs. William Stone, Mrs. Will Erickman, Mrs. Alex Thompson, Mrs. W. Peterson, Mrs. William Schultz, Mrs. Henry Marco and Mrs. Harry Wilcox.

Onalaska—Mrs. George Eriuer, Mrs. Sam Severson, Mrs. Bon Bartholomew, Mrs. E. H. Kinney and Mrs. Barber, assistants; Mrs. Keane, Miss Berg, Dr. Lueck.

Bangor—Mrs. Holden, Mrs. Fred Desener, Mrs. Otto Husa and Mrs. Rudolph Diesburg.

Rockland—Mrs. Mary Douglas and her twins, Mrs. Reuben Jones, Mrs. Gomer Roberts, Mrs. Hattie Hesselberg, Mrs. Angell and Mrs. Wick.

LA CROSSE MAN HELPS TO BUILD LARGEST BRIDGE

Palmer Rogers Takes Airplane Pictures of Location of New Structure

NEW YORK, N. Y.—An airplane was used yesterday to obtain bird's-eye photographs and sketches of the location here and in New Jersey for the approaches of the proposed bridge across the Hudson by Palmer Rogers and Howard Leitch Smith, assistants to Gustav Lindenthal, chief engineer. This is said to be the first time an airplane has been used to aid engineers in formulating plans for a large undertaking of this sort. Mr. Rogers, who was born in La Crosse and graduated from the La Crosse High School in the class of 1909, is now an architect in New York City.

The flight, which was made in a small plane furnished by the Aero-Marine Airways, Inc., a New York firm specializing in commercial flights, occupied half an hour. The machine circled the Manhattan and New Jersey shores of the Hudson, the occupants making photographs and rapid sketches which will be studied by the board of engineers associated with Mr. Lindenthal in working up the bridge approaches and railroad connections.

The Hudson River Bridge, on the plans of which Mr. Lindenthal has been working for many years, will be the largest bridge in the world. The total length will be 7340 feet, nearly one and one-half miles, with a river span of 3240 feet, or twice that of the Brooklyn Bridge. The towers will be 500 feet high, overtopping the Woolworth Building, now the highest in the world. Each anchorage will carry an office building 300 by 400 feet at the base, and 500 feet high. The bridge will have two decks, the upper deck having a roadway 155 feet wide, allowing sixteen lanes of vehicles, four rapid transit tracks and 270-foot sidewalks. The lower deck will have twelve railroad tracks and conduits for cables and pipe lines. The Hudson River Bridge and Terminal Association, of which Otis H. Cutler is chairman, is perfecting plans for a campaign for active members in the fall. Among the prominent men associated with the Movement are Samuel R. Gen. Coleman DuPont, the Hon. E. H. Gary, Hon. Alfred E. Smith, ex-Gov. New York, Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey, James Speyer and others. Mr. Lindenthal is probably the most famous bridge engineer in the world, having designed or been consulted in the planning of, practically all the large railroad and passenger bridges in this country. The Hudson River Bridge is said by engineers to be the largest single structure ever built by man. It is estimated that the bridge alone will cost $100,000,000 and with its related improvements and terminal facilities, $200,000,000.

PLEASANT CONCERT GIVEN BY THE ST. OLAF'S QUARTETTE

Miss Clara Hovde of Rushford
Becomes the Bride of Mr.
Carl Lindahl

RUSHFORD, Minn.,—Special—Numerous compliments are still being for the members of the St. Olaf's quartette, which sang here recently.
The concert was given under the auspices of the Luther League of the Rushford Norwegian Lutheran church and delighted all who heard the talented musicians. As numerous young people of Rushford are students of the college, these arranged a reunion of the young folks and with the concert people enjoyed a delightful evening upon the spacious lawn of the Asmund Vangen home, on Stevens Avenue. Miss Josephine Vangen being a graduate of the college in 1920.

A recent marriage of interest to many was that of Miss Clara Hovde of this city, to Mr. Carl Lindahl of Hayward, Minn., the ceremony taking place at Albert Lea. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Josephine Wang, of Rushford; the groom having for his attendant, Wm. Lindahl, his brother. After a short honeymoon trip the newly-wedded couple will be at home in Hayward. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
K. T. Hovde, of this city and a talented young lady with many friends.
The bridegroom is a stranger to many at Rushford, but is known to be a young man of many sterling qualities.

Another Rushford young man has become a Benedict; Melvin, or "Bud", Tofsted being the latest addition to the ranks from this city. Mr. Tofsted was married to Miss Winifred Okey, of Cassville, Wis., the place chosen for the exchange of vows being the Dayton Avenue church, in St. Paul, with Rev. J. W. Bean as the officiating pastor. They were attended by Mrs. Halvor Halberstad, the groom's sister from Lanesboro and also by V. W. Okey, of St. Paul and a brother of the bride. After the wedding, which was a very quiet one and witnessed by immediate friends only, the bride and bridegroom came by auto with Mr. and Mrs. Halberstad to the Tofsteds' Lanesboro home, where they visited for a time and then came down to Rushford for a visit with the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Augusta Tofsted. Mr. and Mrs. Okey will make

St. Paul their home. The bride is a winsome young lady who has made many friends in their stay here. The bridegroom is an ex-service man,
having enlisted in the Marine Corps
at the beginning of the World War, serving active duty overseas. He is at present a student at the St. Paul Law School and will graduate next year.

Rushford has gained another popular young couple through the recent marriage of Miss Olie Olson, formerly of Peters, Minn., and Mr. Harry Qualey, of Caledonia, Minn. The wedding took place a short time ago at Winona; Rev. Wein of that city officiating. The bride and bridegroom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Humble, of Rushford sister and brother-in-law of the bride. The bridegroom has purchased an interest in the Central restaurant here with Joseph Humble and the couple will reside in this city. The bride has for several years been assistant at the Peterson postoffice and since the resignation of the postmaster, Mr. Carl Smaby several months ago has been acting postmaster in the village of Peterson.

A former Rushford gentleman and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Axness, now of Otter Tail Co., for nearly fifty years, recently celebrated their golden wedding at their home there,
according to reports received here.
Over two hundred people attended the celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Axness were married at Fillmore Co., and resided here for some time afterwards.

A short time ago, Miss Astang Magnesson, a daughter of Jens Magles-son, of Bratsburg, five miles south of Rushford, became the bride of Johann Alsen, of Alpena, Michigan.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's brother, Rev. Finn Magles-son, pastor of the Rushford Lutheran church. Two of the bride's sisters, the Misses, Borglund and Ingoborg Mag-lesson and two of her brothers, Messrs. Wilhelm and Jens, were attendants for the bride and bridegroom.

Mr. Alfred Nelson and Miss Christine Halde, both of Rushford, were recently married at the North Prairie Lutheran parsonage, with Rev. C. M.
Larson, the pastor officiating. Their attendants were Miss Ella Brown and Arthur Halvorsen. A wedding trip to Winona and points in Wis. was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, who will reside in Rushford upon their return.

Rev. G. M. Donohue, pastor of the Caledonia and Rushford Presbyterian churches, is with his family, enjoying a month's outing upon a farm near Caledonia.

Miss Cora Tommerson, who has been the guest of friends in this city,
has returned to her home in Mabel,
Minn.

Mrs. B. Harmon, of Decatur, Iowa, returned recently to her home in that city after a two weeks' visit at the
L. A. Gullickson home. Dr. Harmon, who accompanied her to Rushford, returned the following day.

Six ladies of the Lutheran church
of this city served the usual monthly luncheon in the church basement last Wednesday, the hostesses being Messames A. T. Kjes, T. Sundby, G. O.

Berg, Andrew Ness, Oscar Berland
and B. R. Benson.

The Mrs. Otto Foss home has as guests, that lady's two granddaughters, the Misses Frances and Lillian Foss, of Perkasie Falls, Minn.

Mrs. Pearl Pittmang and a lady friend, both of Maiden Rock, Wis., are guests of the George James home
and also of other relatives and friends in and around this city. Mrs. Pittmang was formerly Miss Pearl Col-benson of Rushford.

Bernard Nestor, Ole Johnson and Leonard Hille, of this place, went up to Fort Snelling last Monday for a month's training there.

Mrs. Pearl Woodward, of Chicago, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Ebner, of Rushford.

Mrs. John Ouliane is expected home from near Mankato, Canada, about the middle of this month. She will be accompanied by her daughter, Miss Helen, whose sudden illness with appendicitis was the reason for her mother's hurried trip to Canada. The young lady's many friends are very glad to know that she has fully recovered from the operation to which she submitted as soon as she was taken ill.

Mrs. Isabel Elde, who for several years has made her home in Rushford with her daughter and husband, Mr.
and Mrs. O. H. Hassard, has gone out to the state of Oregon to spend the winter with another daughter, Mrs. Riste.

Miss Rosa Knudson, who recently returned from a visit to Ames, Iowa, is taking the place in the Rushford postoffice of Miss Martha Moe, during that lady's summer vacation.

Mangus and Martin Aagaard, two former Rushford residents, now of Buhl, Minn., and Minneapolis, have been recent visitors in this city; enroute to their old home in Choice, Minn., to visit their mother and another brother, Lewis Aagaard.

Eighteen young people, matrons and maids, gathered in the Rushford public picnic grounds recently and made up a jolly party, in compliment to Mrs. Clarence Thomas, of this city.
A bounteous lunch was enjoyed and as an evidence of their esteem, there was presented to Mrs. Thomas a solid silver tomato-spoon.

An extremely polite traveler had been for a walk along the dock. When he came back to his deck chair he found a very buxom woman in possession of it.

He approached her timidly and said, "Excuse me, madam, but could you tell me—er—without—er—without getting up, whether you are sitting on my hat?"

In 4 Trips Across America Essex 4 Times Breaks Record

Fastest Time Between New York and San Francisco Beaten by 12 Hours, 48 Minutes
New York - Chicago Record Also Falls

Four Essex touring cars, carrying the first United States transcontinental motor mails, between New York and San Francisco, have set the time records for their respective directions across the American continent. The distance each car travelled was 3347 miles.

The New York to Chicago automobile record was also beaten.

The fastest Essex time was made from San Francisco to New York in 4 days, 14 hours and 43 minutes, breaking the record by 12 hours, 48 minutes.

A Reliability Proof That Speaks for Every Essex

The average time for all four cars was 4 days, 21 hours. These records cover the actual time from the moment the cars were checked out of New York and San Francisco with U. S. Mail, until they checked in at their respective destinations on opposite sides of the continent.

The purpose of this Essex test was to prove its reliability, not merely with one car, but with four. The closeness of the respective transcontinental time for the four cars, proves the consistency of performance and endurance that characterizes all Essex cars. Every requirement of motor car performance was met a thousand times by these cars, in their cross continent run.

Consider that hundreds of cars have attempted to break the transcontinental record.
You have rarely heard of these attempts for the failures have not been given circulation.

Yet isn't it a remarkable and convincing proof of Essex ability and endurance that the only four Essex cars that ever challenged for the coveted transcontinental record were in every case successful?

The foregoing announcement was published a year ago. It is republished today in celebration of the first anniversary of this memorable record, and because Essex position today remains unchanged and unchallenged.
More than 50,000 owners know its endurance, service and quality.

"SOCIETY SNOBS"
For the first time in the history of the exclusive Plaza hotel, New York city, the management turned over the famous "Rose Room" to Director Robert Henley and his group of screen players headed by Conway Tearle for one of the spectacular restaurant scenes in "Society Snobs," playing at the Rivoli theater today.

The Rose Room, in all its magnificence and impressiveness, was used to film scenes showing Mr. Tearle as a waiter, and later as a prominent member of society. Supporting the star in these two great scenes were scores of patrons of the hotel, seated at the numerous tables.
Another big scene in this picture represents a large ball room with a full jazz orchestra. Keeping several hundred couples dancing around with all the gaiety characteristic of a society function. Other scenes in this production include views of a big hunting lodge in Maine and exteriors of beautiful country homes and fashionable churches.

"CHICKENS" MONDAY
Glady's George, Thomas H. Ince's latest feminine find, who has scored distinct success in several recent Ince productions, is the leading woman for Douglas MacLean in "Chickens," the young star's new Paramount comedy which comes to the Rivoli theater on Monday next.

Mr. Ince "discovered" Miss George while she was with DeWolf Hopper, in "The Better Ole," and, convinced that she was an ideal type for the screen, obtained her services in a long-term contract.

"Chickens," which was adapted to the screen from the Saturday Evening Post story by Herschel S. Hall, "Yancona Yillies," deals with the failure and success of a wealthy city chap who takes up chicken ranching because of a stipulation in his wealthy wife's will.

The story was directed by Jack Nelson, under the personal supervision of Thomas H. Ince.

JUBILEE GIRLS PRESENT

"CHARLEY'S AUNT" AT THE RIVIERA THEATER SUNDAY
"Charley's Aunt" will be presented by the Jubilee Girls Sunday at the Riviera. It is a rollicking musical comedy number that packs many laughs. The plot reaches a climax when Easy (Hipp) poses as Charley's aunt and causes some funny situations to arise with Cohn and Levy (Dooley and Golden) mixing in when the "real" aunt arrives. The song program will be: "Charley," Conrad Elmer, "Home Again Blues," Betty Martin, "The Rosary," Harry Bowers and the Jubilee comedy quartet, Hugh Marshall will sing "A Drowning" and "Rose of My Heart." The feature picture will be William Fairbanks in "Montana Bill."

JACK HOXIE—COOPER THEATERS
Not in years has a western picture been produced that will compare favorably with Jack Hoxie's latest feature, "Cyclone Bliss." This picture will be shown at the Strand on Monday and Tuesday, Riviera on Wednesday and Thursday, and Casino on Friday and Saturday. It is said to surpass Hoxie's first picture in this series which played here several weeks ago. There are several well-known players supporting Hoxie and the picture was directed by Francis Ford.

"FIRE CAT"—CASINO
The secret caves that sheltered Valdez, the notorious Mexican bandit, from capture, play an important part in "The Fire Cat," the Universal production in which Edith Roberts is to be seen at the Casino Sunday.
The murky caverns are located in the almost inaccessible wilderness near King City, Calif. They were undiscovered until a posse searching for Valdez accidentally stumbled into the mouth of one of the grottoes and saw the tiny spark of the bandit's camp fire far back in the shadowy recess.

CONNIE HIPP, COMEDIAN

Here's the diminutive tumbler with the Jubilee Girls, now holding down the boards at the Riviera Theater. Connie is now well-known to La Crosse theater patrons because of his funny red nose and his comic songs.

Then followed the most sensational gun fight in the history of early California. Valdez and his gang were killed or captured. "The Fire Cat" is a colorful story of life in the South American mining district, in the heart of the Andes. Edith Roberts, the star, depicts the role of Dulce Alvarez, a native girl of primitive passions.

HARRY CAREY—COOPER THEATERS
A slip of a girl lashing a man with a horsewhip is just one of the thrills in "The Freeze Out," at the Riviera Friday and Saturday. Harry Carey is the star of this Universal production, and Helen Ferguson is the girl who does the horsewhipping. The story given Harry Carey an excellent opportunity to blend drama and humor into a thrilling picture.

FRANKLYN FARNUM—COOPER THEATERS
Franklyn Farnum, who is the star of "The Fighting Stranger," which comes to the Riviera on Monday and Tuesday; Casino on Wednesday and Thursday; and Strand on Friday and Saturday, added to his fame by appearing in this picture, but is minus a fur overcoat and a gold watch.

In taking one of the big western scenes of the picture it was in the scenario that Farnum should hold at bay a whole troupe of bandits while his sweetheart escapes from danger. He did the job all right, but it seems that one of the bodyguard for his lady love overdid the part and took Farnum's valuables in to keep them from falling into the hands of the movie bandits, and then, thinking that the play was still on, took them home for safe keeping.

LA CROSSE MAN IS WAR CHEMIST FINDS OINTMENT

John F. Williams Develops Protective Paste Against Mustard Gas

SAG PASTE COMES INTO USE
AT FRONT NEAR END OF WAR

Fifty Tons of Ointment Made
Before Armistice is Signed

The man who developed the protective ointment used against mustard gas in the World War is now living in La Crosse. He is John M. Williams, chemist for the Martello company.

"I was doing some pharmaceutical work at Columbia university in May, 1918," said Mr. Williams, "when I was called to American university at Washington, D. C., to take charge of the task of developing an ointment to be used as a protection against the deadly mustard gas. We had nothing to go on when we started our work except that it was said that linseed oil and zinc stearate had been found to be of some use."

"Mustard gas is not really a gas, nor does it contain any mustard, but is a liquid which vaporizes very readily and contains a large amount of sulphur. When it comes into contact with the skin it produces terrible burns, raising huge blisters which are very slow to heal. Gas masks afforded protection against inhaling it, but it was also necessary to devise some means of protecting the skin against it, and an ointment of some kind was decided to be the best means of doing this."

"The necessity for a protective instead of a curative ointment was evident because after the skin has been exposed to mustard gas no effect is felt for three or four hours and then it is too late to prevent a burn from developing. Washing the affected parts with soap and water or kerosene within one minute was found to prevent burning, but this kind of treatment was not possible under the conditions in the front lines, as everyone probably knows. "We came to know the effects of mustard gas burns rather well before we finished our experiments because it was necessary to use ourselves and the men of the Chemical Warfare service as subjects to find out how the stuff acted." Mr. Williams exhibited his left forearm, along which a row of little red scars is still visible. "We tried all different ointments before we finally found one which met all requirements satisfactorily."

"The chief requirements were that the ointment should give absolute protection against mustard gas, it should protect for at least twenty-four hours, it should not rub off easily, it should be in itself non-irritating and not have any unpleasant effects from continued use, the raw materials should be such as were readily available, it should be easy to manufacture, and the cost should not be excessive."

"After about two months of experimentation ointment number 66 was found to meet all these requirements successfully, and the government began the manufacture of 'sag paste' as it was called—gas spelled backward—for use overseas. We still worked on, however, trying to improve number 66 in minor ways and it was number 116 that was finally adopted as the standard."

Made Fifty Tons

"When the armistice was signed somewhere around 50 tons of 'sag paste' had been manufactured and it was just coming into use at the front. If the war had continued vast quantities of it would undoubtedly have been made. Its efficiency, however, was amply demonstrated. Men obliged to handle mustard gas in chemical and gas-filling plants found that 'sag paste' gave practically complete immunity from burns when spread on hands and arms and exposed portions of the face."

The buildings and grounds of American university were taken over by the government for the chemical warfare service, stated Mr. Williams, and although he did not say so, it was apparent that working with the most deadly gases known was not the safest thing in the world.

"Some gas or other was constantly getting loose," Mr. Williams declared, "and we had a system of gas alarms that warned us to put on our masks at a moment's notice. Great care was taken of course, and the utmost secrecy about what was going on, but even then some accidents were unavoidable. "Everybody in the place, from colonels down to privates volunteered as subjects for our experiments with mustard gas, and it got to be that a man was considered a sucker if he did not have the scar of a burn on him somewhere."

Try it on Man's Back

"Sometimes we would put the burns on a man's back in straight rows. One of the men to whom we did this was a civilian who was called for examination by his draft board just as he was recovering from a back full of these burns. When the doctors examined him they were greatly perplexed by this new disease which caused perfectly round spots in regular rows to appear on a man's back. They called in specialists to their assistance, but they also were unable to diagnose the cause. The man finally explained it to them and enjoyed a good laugh at their expense."

Mr. Williams read a paper before the American Pharmaceutical society in which he showed the importance of a preventive against mustard gas. He cited the statement of Colonel Bacon that by far the greatest proportion of casualties was caused by mustard burns and that the prevention of these casualties would be of great benefit to the allied cause. If the war had continued "sag paste" would undoubtedly have saved thousands of lives and have kept thousands more as effective fighting troops at the front, thus aiding materially in the successful prosecution of the war.

When a woman dies, the men learn how good she was and the women how old she was.

MISS LENA GELATT GIVES DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE LUNCHEON

MORNING bridge was a popular diversion the past summer, especially at the Country club, where the porches are refreshingly cool and the view beautifully picturesque. On Friday the club was again the scene of one of these enjoyable functions, when Miss Lena Gelatt, a most charming hostess at a bridge luncheon, forty-two guests were entertained, twenty-four being seated at the card tables while others enjoyed the time socially. A variety of beautiful flowers arranged in large vases and swaying baskets, made a pleasing decorative effect. Among the guests were a number from out of town: Mrs. Minnie L. Thorpe of San Antonio, Texas, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. L. G. Loomis; Mrs. Harry Randall of Minneapolis, mother of Mrs. A. D. Funk; Mrs. R. H. Langdon, Gillette, Wis., daughter of Mrs. Frank Winter; Mrs. C. W. Hyde of Chicago, the guest of her parents, Prof. and Mrs. P. A. Canton; Miss Wilmuth of New York, visiting Mrs. Argle Scott; and Miss Carrie Merriam of Minneapolis, the guest of Miss Carrie Marsh.

VISIT NATIONAL GUARDS

Among the ladies who visited the local guardsmen, who were in camp with the National guard the past two weeks at Camp Douglas were: Mrs. John Henry Galland, Mrs. Howard Hundredmark, Mrs. Myron Locke, Mrs. George Irvine, Mrs. R. P. H. Schultz, Mrs. George Robb and Mrs. Edwin W. Chamberlain.

AFTERNOON COFFEE

At her home on Thursday Mrs. Ernest Schilling, 935 Division street, entertained delightfully at a six o'clock coffee. The tables were prettily decorated with flowers. The guests were Mrs. See and two daughters, Margeline and Genese of Milwaukee; Mrs. John Mashak and daughter Anna Marie; Mrs. Paul Duma, Mrs. Sidney Drake, Mrs. R. V. Pentress, Miss Eileen Sieger and Miss Alice Schilling.

FAREWELL PARTY

At three o'clock daylight saving time on Monday at the Salzer Memorial church a farewell party will be given by the Ladies' Aid society of the church in compliment to Mrs. Hugo Schick, who will shortly leave for Fargo, N. D., to visit a daughter following which she will go to Clearwater, Fla., to spend the winter with another daughter, Mrs. R. M. Thompson. An informal program will be given and refreshments will be served. It is with deep regret that the ladies of the church part with Mrs. Schick, who for many years has been an ardent worker among them and who is greatly beloved by all. Mrs. Schick has disposed of her household goods and in the future expects to make her home with her married children.

Several delightfully informal small gatherings were held during the past week in honor of Mrs. Schick. Among them Mrs. H. H. Hansen, 1425 State street, Mrs. G. P. Saxenau, 1423 State street, and Mrs. Charles Schaller, 1510 State street, entertained at neighborhood gatherings.

ANNUAL PICNIC

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church will hold its annual picnic on Tuesday, August 8, at Myrick park. Supper will be served at half-past six daylight saving time. Each one is asked to bring sandwiches, a lemon and one other article of food, also the usual dishes. The invitation of course includes the families of the members. In case of rain the party will be held at the church parlors.

DINNER PARTY

Miss Patricia Pederson entertained at a dinner party at her home, 1433 Kane street, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Myro of Osgood, Ohio, and Miss Alice Oleson of Westby. Other guests invited were Mrs. Elin Sundel and daughter, Mrs. Elin Sundel and daughter, Mrs. J. Nelson, Mrs. K. E. Lund, Mrs. Mrs. P. Malmgren, Mr. Sigurd Opsahl and Walter Pederson.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Goshay of Mason City, Iowa, a daughter, Catherine Anne, August 4, at Ann's hospital.

ENTERTAIN FOR MRS. CRESSWELL

Mrs. Robert Cresswell, who has been the guest of Mrs. Joseph Safford the past week, has returned to her home at Rockford. Among those who entertained at delightful small parties in her honor were: Mrs. John Elliott, 1414 Main street, Mrs. P. W. Fox, 211 South Ninth street, Mrs. William Meyer, 208 South Sixth street, and Mrs. Henry Rodney, 1231 Madison street.

At the meeting of the Tuesday Bridge club last week, Mrs. Jack Brahmner and Mrs. J. J. Padesky won the favors.

OUTING PARTY

Miss Alice Schilling was a pleasing hostess at a party given on Friday evening at Stevens' Inn. Dancing, games and singing featured the evening's entertainment. The guests were the Misses Irene Gantsch, Mary Delleman, Eileen and Elizabeth Sieger, Lillian Daley, Dorothy Weber, Susan and Elizabeth Bonndelinger, Margeline See, Rose May White, Bernice Buschman, Anna Gmeiner and William Schilling.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lyons, 821 State street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. Kent Townsend Wakefield of Milwaukee. The marriage will take place early in September.

BENEFIT PARTY

The Sons of Veterans Auxiliary will give a benefit social on the lawn of Mrs. Susanna Nowak, 1528 Johnson street, on Thursday evening, August 11. Splendid music will be furnished by an orchestra and ice cream and cake will be served. The proceeds will go to a worthy member of the order who is in needy circumstances.

SURPRISE PARTY

Mr. Will J. Torrance, 1304 South Sixteenth street, was pleasantly surprised Friday evening by a party of friends in honor of his birthday. Cards were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Joseph Harnack, Mrs. C. W. Spencer, Mrs. Henry Frechhoff, Mr. Henry Frechhoff, Mr. Leo Gahan and Mr. J. C. Morgan. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames C. W. Spencer, P. N. Clarke, S. L. Drake, Joseph Harnack, M. Nowak, James Furber, Leo Gahan, Leslie Lehnbach, J. C. Morgan, J. P. Bradlos, Henry Frechhoff, C. M. Dalton and O. Dean. Mr. Torrance was presented with a Globe-Wernicke section.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. George Whitfield, 1720 Winnebago street, delightfully entertained Thursday evening in honor of their third wedding anniversary. The evening was spent playing cards and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Alast Stoll and Dr. T. N. Anderson. These present were: Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Arnold, Messrs. and Mesdames Matt Stoll, Will J. Torrance and M. R. Birnbaum.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Ladies' Aid society of the West Avenue Methodist church will entertain at the church parlors Wednesday evening, August 10. At this time there will be a sale of aprons. The proceeds will be used for repairs on the parsonage of the church. A cordial invitation is extended to all friends to be in attendance.

THOUSAND PERSONS NEEDED IN THE CAST IN COMING PAGEANT

Reproduction of Events of Pioneer Days Undertaken in Big Event

The entire lists of scenes necessary to produce the La Crosse Community Pageant which will be held at the Fair Grounds on September 5th and 6th, have been received by the committee and it is found that in order properly to represent the early day "times," a large number of people of all ages will be required to take part. This makes it necessary for the directors to ask the good citizens to come forward and offer their services. The special characters will be picked so as to represent, as near as possible, the exact counterpart of the early day settler, and the scenes will be staged in such a manner that, from a spectator's standpoint, the early days will be reproduced and the hardships and the pleasures of our forefathers during those trying times brought into reality. One thousand persons are required in the cast.

The scenario, as furnished the association by the Thurston management, which was taken from data furnished by the historical committee, has covered over detail of our early history as well as the principal events up to the present time. The educational value of this pageant cannot be measured and this coupled with the community spirit that a production of this character produces, makes it an attraction that warrants the moral, active and financial support of every citizen. It is hoped that every person asked to help will come forward and do his or her part.

The forming of the La Crosse Community Pageant association by the group of citizens interested in promoting community gatherings and incorporating themselves under the state laws to continue their activities along these lines, gives them the opportunity to serve the good people of this vicinity with good wholesome out door attractions. The association is so organized that it reserves all revenues for future productions and no private gain can be made by any one connected with it.

Just reserve these dates and it is hoped that no other attraction will be brought out that will work in opposition.

SWISS MONEY IS TOO GOOD; TRAVEL GOES TO NEIGHBORS

Exchange Rate so Much in Her Favor that Tourists Can't Afford to Visit

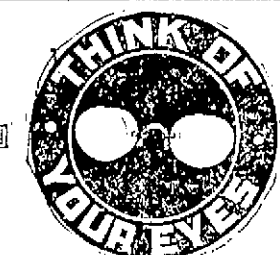

GENEVA, Switzerland—Switzerland has reached the acute stage of economic stringency resulting from a too favorable rate of exchange. The tourist season, upon which she depends to such a great extent, ended with little prospect of an improvement in the situation.

Tourists who usually visit Switzerland during the summer are going to French and Italian resorts. The Swiss, themselves, to a considerable extent, are abandoning their own country to spend their outings in France where Swiss money counts for twice its value at home, or in Italy, where it counts five times the normal value.

The crisis shows not only in the absence of tourist trade but in industrial stagnation, a good many workers being already out of employment. A few weeks ago it looked as if the delegations to the second assembly of the League of Nations September 5, would find difficulty in getting lodgings here, hotel keepers hesitating to reserve apartments for them because it would require them to refuse tourists at the height of the season. It now appears that the hotels will welcome the league delegations unless there is an unexpectedly radical change in the travel situation.

Forgetful Daddy Jimmy had always noticed that when his father went to work on rainy days he wore rubbers. One day after his father had gone he noticed that the rubbers were still in their usual place, so he ran to mother and said: "Oh, mother, daddy didn't wear his rain slippers today."

Squirrels as Foresters It is evident that in a state of nature, squirrels are not able to keep track of many of the nuts they bury in odd spots. Thus, they are quite useful in helping to seed burned or logged areas in some parts of the country. This fact has been particularly noted in Oregon and Washington where chipmunks are giving important assistance in the business of re-establishing forests of the Douglas fir. They collect the seeds from the fir cones, and many of those they bury and forget produce young trees. Mice do much good work of the same kind.

RUTH CONNECTS FOR 39TH CIRCUIT DRIVE

However, Spirited Rally of Tigers Gives them 9 to 8 Win on Saturday

BROWNS AND MACKS IN EVEN BREAK SATURDAY

Indians Overcome Senator's Winning Streak, 3 to 1

NEW YORK.—Babe Ruth rapped out his thirty-ninth home run of the season in the sixth inning of the Yankees' game with Detroit here Saturday evening, equalling his last year's record. There were two men on.

NEW YORK.—Detroit took a close game from New York, 9 to 8, Saturday despite two spirited rallies by the Yankees late in the contest. Ruth hit his thirty-ninth home run of the season in the sixth inning with two men on bases, but his failure to get under a short fly in the ninth let in the winning run. Blue hit a double and four singles in six times at bat. Score:

B. H. E.
Detroit . . . 100 400 211—9 17 0
New York . . . 000 004 004—8 8 0
Batteries: Oldham, Middleton, Holling and Rasser; Hoyt, Quinn, Shawkey and Schanz.

Browns 5, Macks 4, 12
PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Philadelphia and St. Louis broke even in a double-header Saturday, the western team taking the first, 5 to 4, and the home team the second, 12 to 9. The Athletics were ahead when the ninth inning in each game opened. In the first contest the St. Louis batting rally netted four runs, enough to win, but the Athletics were too far ahead in the ninth inning of the second game for the visitors to repeat. Scores:

First Game—R. H. E.
St. Louis . . . 000 010 004—5 10 2
Philadelphia . . . 020 001 100—4 14 2
Batteries: Van Gilder, Bayne and Severoid; Moore, Rommel and Perkins.
Second Game—R. H. E.
St. Louis . . . 111 200 015—9 12 1
Philadelphia . . . 112 410 215—12 15 1
Batteries: Davis, Bayne, Burwell and Severoid; Naylor, Keefe and Perkins.

Indians 3, Senators 1
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Washington's winning streak ended at eleven straight games when Cleveland took the first of the series Saturday, 3 to 1. Zachary was hit hard throughout but his support saved him after the first inning in which the visitors bunched five hits. The locals were unable to solve this in the pinches. Score:

Red Sox, 0; Sox, 4
Boston, Mass.—Boston won the final game of the series with Chicago today, 9 to 4, by timely hitting. A triple, Mostil with bases filled in the fourth led to Fenwick's walk, and the Sox won the game. Fenwick held his opponents the rest of the game. Score: R. H. E.
Chicago . . . 000 400 000—4 8 3
Boston . . . 131 101 205—9 14 0
Batteries: Wilkinson, Davenport and Schalk; Pennock, Russell and Ruel.

LA CROSSE TO PLAY AT LA CRESCENT ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

GEORGE M. MEAD RESIGNS AS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR AT LA CROSSE HIGH SCHOOL

Prominent Athletic Head to Take up Position as Director of Athletic Department of Pennsylvania State Normal School at Bloomsburg

GEORGE M. MEAD, for two years supervisor of physical education and director of athletics in the public schools of the city, has handed in his resignation to the local school board and after completing the year's work on the city playgrounds, of which he has also been supervisor during the two-year period, will leave to take up his new post with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania State Normal School, located at Bloomsburg, Pa.

During the two years of his residence here Mr. Mead has taken a prominent part in the civic and community affairs of the city and by virtue of the high school record in all forms of athletics and the stimulated interest in playground work, has established himself as a competent director and supervisor of athletics. The resignation of Mr. Mead at the local high school was effected after receiving an offer from the Pennsylvania normal at a substantial increase in salary and additional opportunities for advancement.

Mr. Mead came direct to the position at the local high school two years ago after twenty-three months service with the United States army, eleven months of which were spent in foreign service as a first lieutenant with the 338th Infantry. Previous to his army service, Mr. Mead taught Junior high school at Grand Rapids, Mich., after graduating from Michigan State Normal School and the University at Ann Arbor.

Through his short but successful career as coach of athletics at the La Crosse high school, the institution has boasted high caliber representative athletic teams, the football team of 1919 winning the honors for the states of Wisconsin and Minnesota, while the aggregation of last season suffered but a single defeat which came at the hands of the Chippewa Falls machine on a fluke. The football team lost but one game during his two years' reign. While the basketball teams were eliminated in the state meet at Madison, the local high school represented this section in the two meets.

Of his athletic record established here, the Booster, official annual publication of the La Crosse high school, prints the following:

"Mention the athletic record of La Crosse and immediately the name of Coach Mead is suggested. Our success in every branch of athletics is the result of his training. He has not only developed winning teams to represent the school, but has aroused interest in athletics in the school at large and a measure of our success for years to come may be attributed to him."

Has Unusual Ability
That Mr. Mead is an athletic coach of unusual ability is evidenced by the fact that he is in a large measure responsible for turning out three of the most formidable athletes of the La Crosse high school, including "Bobby" Fitzke, now star at the University of Wyoming, "Mooney" Vondrashek, of whom Dr. Meanwell of the University of Wisconsin says, "the cleverest basketball player I have seen in a high school 'suit,'" and "Shorty" Galan, heady quarterback for the victorious Red and Black eleven of 1919.

Mr. Mead accepts his new position at a salary of $5,300 with an annual increase of $125 until a maximum salary of $4,000 is reached. He is to be given two rooms in a dormitory, of which he will have charge. Mr. Mead has acquired a host of friends during his stay in the city and his departure will be regretted by all in that his character and work has been of a high degree. He wishes to thank individual citizens and organizations for co-operation in making his work a success. His work finishes with the end of the playground season here on August 15.

ST. LOUIS BEATS BOSTON BRAVES

Effective Pitching by Sherdel Enables Cardinals to Win Saturday, 12 to 2

O'FARRELL'S HOMER WITH BASES FULL WINS, 7-4

Brooklyn Defeats Pirates in First Game of Series

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Effective pitching by Sherdel, who relieved Pfeffer in the first inning, coupled with heavy hitting by the Cardinal batters, enabled St. Louis to defeat Boston, 12 to 2, Saturday. Score: R. H. E.
Boston . . . 200 000 000—2 7 1
St. Louis . . . 110 015 041—12 15 0
Batteries: Oeschger, Pillsbury, Evers, Braxton and O'Neill; Pfeffer, Sherdel and Dillender, Clemens.

Cubs, 7; Giants, 4
CHICAGO, Ill.—Bob O'Farrell's home run drive over the right field wall with the bases filled Saturday put Chicago out in front and they won the first game of the series from New York, 7 to 4. Cheever, who started yesterday's game against Boston, was on the mound for the locals Saturday and pitched good ball in the pinches. Score: R. H. E.
New York . . . 000 300 100—4 9 2
Chicago . . . 000 500 204—7 8 4
Batteries: Ryan, Douglas and Snyder; Cheever and O'Farrell.

Dodgers, 3; Pirates, 2
PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Brooklyn defeated Pittsburgh, 3 to 2, Saturday in the first game of the series here between the Dodgers and the Pirates. Seven thousand spectators of the eighth division, gathered here for a reunion, watched the game and presented John Miljus, Brooklyn pitcher, who is a war veteran, with a loving cup. Miljus' sore arm prevented him from pitching and after the first two men he was relieved by Calore. Score: R. H. E.
Brooklyn . . . 201 000 000—3 7 0
Pittsburgh . . . 200 000 000—2 5 3
Batteries: Miljus, Calore and Krueger; Taylor, Glazner and Breiten.

Reds, 5; Phils, 2
CINCINNATI, O.—Philadelphia lost to the Reds here Saturday, 5 to 2. Bundling of hits in the second inning gave the Reds a lead that could not be overcome. Score: R. H. E.
Philadelphia . . . 100 100 000—2 8 1
Cincinnati . . . 050 010 015—5 11 0
Batteries: G. Smith and Peters; Lague and Wingo.

Patriot vs. Bear
She was a pretty girl, with a sharp tongue. He was a cynic. "Marriage," he was saying, "is a mistake. Why should a young man marry when for a couple of dollars he can purchase a porcupine?" "Yes," remarked the pretty girl, "you men certainly are at an advantage. We poor women can't buy a bear under several hundred dollars."

Recently Harry Holman, batting king of the Detroit Tigers, was handed a baseball by a small boy and asked to sign his name on the cover. Holman looked it over and read: "Woodrow Wilson, Warren G. Harding." Then he smiled. "Take the cover off, kid. I'll sign underneath on the yarn," said Harry.

THINK THIS OVER

With baseball flourishing as it is at the present time the city of La Crosse is of sufficient size to support twice the number of major teams now existing and because a number of fans see fit to publicly display their favoritism for one team or the other it is not cause for members of the teams to take offense.

The better course for La Crosse baseball fans, it seems, would be to boost for the home club when matched against foreign aggregations and hold in check favoritism for one team or the other until the beginning of the city series, announced for the middle of September.

GLENN COVE, N. Y.—Mrs. Molla Thurstall Mallory, women's national tennis champion, Saturday won the Metropolitan title and showed that she is in good form for her effort to repel the invasion of Miss Suzanne Leggett, of France, in the national tournament this month. In the final of the Metropolitan event, Mrs. Mallory defeated Mrs. Marjorie Zinderstein Jessup, of Wilmington, Del., national runner-up, 6-1, 7-5.

The women's doubles title went to Miss Helen Wills, of Berkeley, Cal., and Mrs. May Sutton Brady, of Los Angeles, who defeated Miss Helen Gilletteau, of Connecticut, singles champion, and Miss Bayard, of New York, 8-6, 6-1.

BRITISH PROS BEAT U. S. OPEN CHAMPION

NEW YORK.—Jim Barnes, national open golf champion, and George McLean, were defeated Saturday, 1 up, by George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, English golf stars, in an exhibition game at the New Grass Sprain Golf club. The match was 36 holes.

HERO WORSHIP

Recently Harry Holman, batting king of the Detroit Tigers, was handed a baseball by a small boy and asked to sign his name on the cover. Holman looked it over and read: "Woodrow Wilson, Warren G. Harding." Then he smiled. "Take the cover off, kid. I'll sign underneath on the yarn," said Harry.

THREE SOCIALS AND ROTARY OUTING LEFT FOR PLAYGROUND KIDS

Socials are to be Held at Three Playgrounds on August 9, 11 and 15; Big Times Planned

ANNUAL OUTING OF THE ROTARY CLUB AUGUST 18

Marks Wind-up of Playground Activities in City

CHILDREN and participants in events on the city playgrounds have three socials and a big picnic under the auspices of the Rotary club, according to announcement of G. M. Mead, supervisor of the city playgrounds Saturday.

On Tuesday, August 9, a social will be held at Copeland park, the entertainment of the evening being the indoor game between the Wittenberg & Hays and Independents teams of the indoor league.

The Junior girls of the Hixon and Copeland playgrounds will meet in an indoor game, while the smaller children will stage a costume party. A similar social will be held at the West Avenue ground Thursday evening, August 11, when the Krause and M. & C. Newburg senior teams will furnish the head-liner in the indoor games. The Hood street and West Avenue Junior girls are scheduled for a game. On August 15 the third social will be put on at the Hood street playground when the Krauses and Newburgs will stage another senior playground game. There will be talk dancing and singing by the children and tumbling by the smaller boys.

Outing August 18

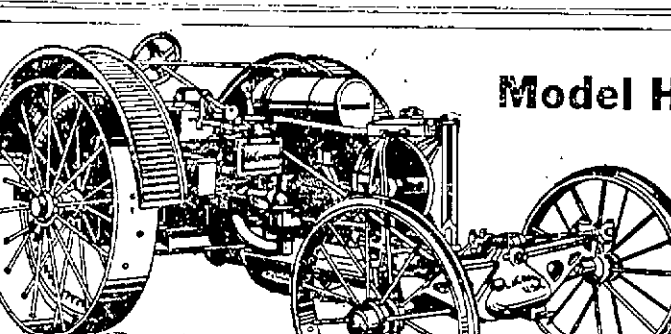

The annual picnic given by the Rotary club will be given Thursday, August 18, starting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The Midnet championship will be decided in the afternoon, while the senior championship will be played off in the evening. Great interest has been manifest in the playground all this season and it is expected that the enthusiasm will even surpass that of last year when the annual picnic was held at the Onalaska agricultural school grounds. The picnic this season is to be held at Copeland park.

The champion girl and boy point winner will be determined and their various efficiency rests will be held and ribbons awarded. The Rotary outing marks the conclusion of the playground season and offers the youngsters of the city the biggest entertainment of the year.

SALES MANAGER

A Rare Opportunity

A highly rated manufacturer, for a product which is a national demand and which is a profitable business, wishes to appoint an exclusive distributor for this and surrounding territory to establish a branch office. To the right man, an income of $18,000 to $20,000 annually is herewith assured.

The product is covered by basic patents and will be used in every home, as well as by business and educational institutions. It is used by the leading railways, colleges and corporations in the country.

We want to hear only from a business man of good standing, financially responsible, and anxious to make a permanent and profitable connection. One who, with our guidance and assistance, can eventually form a local corporation similar to those already operating successfully in other territories. If advisable, he will be taken to a large line of territory in which over forty salesmen are now operating.

In reply state full particulars and phone number. Sales manager will be in this city shortly for personal interview.

CARDS AND DINNER SOCIAL FEATURES FOR GOLF PLAYERS

Pretty Pre-Nuptial Shower is Given Thursday in Compli- ment to Grace Reinhold

TOMAH, Wis.—One of the most delightful social affairs ever held in this city was the Sparta-Tomah golf match staged on Wednesday at the Country club. Honors at golf went to the visiting ladies. A pleasing feature was the plan for the entertainment of the visiting ladies. Mesdames A. A. Fix and E. W. Yackel of the day's committee arranged an informal card party during the afternoon. Five hundred was played at several tables and favors for high scores were presented Mrs. Charles Sreiter and Mrs. Wilmer Wright, house chairman of the Sparta Country club. A three-course dinner was served at 6 o'clock to the visiting and local golfers, their ladies and guests. Covers were laid for seventy-two. Mrs. Roy Smith acted as chairman of the refreshments committee. Social dancing followed the dinner. Among the members of the Sparta Country club in attendance were President and Mrs. H. S. McGiffin, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. and Earl Jefferson, Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Stiles, Mr. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Abel, Zell Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Card, Miss Pearson, Miss North, Alfred Bouziers, Mr. Newton, Miss Wright, Mr. Holman, Mrs. Tourville, Mr. Shaw. Other guests were Mrs. Belle Gooddyne Hodges, Pasadena, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. William Howes, Woolsey, S. D.; Mrs. Schreiter, Milwaukee. A return match game of golf will be played on the Sparta links Wednesday, August 11.

Among the pre-nuptial functions given in honor of Miss Grace Reinhold, an August bride, may be included a "miscellaneous shower" tendered the young lady at her home on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Atwood celebrated their fifteenth wedding anniversary at a family picnic held on Saturday, July 30, at Trout Falls. Thirty-five were in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Hosiog of Baraboo motored to this city for the celebration.

The Queen Esther circle and several guests were entertained for supper and a social evening by Mrs. Reuben Roder at her farm home.

The Saturday Bridge club was entertained August 6 at the home of Mrs. C. J. Maxwell.

On Tuesday Mrs. H. R. Johnson

entertained the following guests at luncheon and a social afternoon: Mesdames L. W. Earle, L. W. Earle, Messrs. and Mesdames L. M. Drew, J. Bates, I. R. Wiltz and Agnes Burg. The gathering was held at the Johnson cottage Flora Dell.

On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wells entertained a circle of friends at a dinner party and social evening. Covers were laid for eight.

Miss Ruth Phillips of Madison is in the city on a month's visit.

Mrs. Rickensend and son of El Paso, Texas, are guests at the F. O. Drow cottage, Spring Bank.

Mrs. F. M. Hart was a La Crosse visitor on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bennett and children are enjoying a motor trip throughout northern Wisconsin. The party will visit various lakes and resorts and will spend an indefinite time on the trip.

L. W. Earle and family returned on Thursday from a month's outing at the family cottage, Spring Bank. Mrs. Bates and Miss Bury will occupy a cottage for the coming three weeks and will be joined later by a third sister, Mrs. Veeder who is at Waukesha.

Miss Josephine is spending the present week at the Anderson cottage, Spring Bank.

Mrs. Bertha Darlin of Madison arrives in this city on Tuesday and will be for a month the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. J. Wells.

Miss Adalia Gehrke of Tomah, and Mr. Edward Keller of Racine were married on July 30 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Gehrke. Mr. and Mrs. Keller are spending their honeymoon at the hotel of the Wisconsin and will be at home in their friends after August 25 at 1225 Geneva street, Racine, Wis.

The Monroe County Institute for Teachers closed on Friday, August 3. Fifty rural teachers from this portion of the county were in attendance. Principal W. B. Rush of Tomah high school was an instructor.

A carnival was given on the high school campus during the past week under the auspices of the Woman's Civic Improvement club. Proceeds of the carnival will be used to reimburse the club's treasury of the funds paid out during the recent Redpath chautauque. A deficit of $800 resulted from the same.

Miss Elsie Dauder left this city on Wednesday for her home at Glenwood, Minn., following a two weeks' visit at the Frank Drow cottage, Spring Bank.

Miss Edith Yaeger has gone to Riverside, Calif., to spend a year with a brother, Ernest Yaeger, private secretary to Frank Miller, master of Mission Inn.

Announcing The New Buick "Four"

—A Thoroughbred
Four, Completing
the Famed Buick
Line

The new Four-Cylinder Buick, here announced, is a thoroughbred—a pedigreed car well worthy of its name.

Down to the very last detail, this new model possesses every quality of enduring serviceability, complete comfort, and distinctive appearance that have always characterized Buick automobiles.

The advent of this new Four makes the Buick 1922 line complete. It offers to purchasers of a car of this size all the quality and service that go to make up the name "Buick."

The engine, of course, is of the time-tested Buick Valve-in-Head type. The year-after-year concentration of Buick's engineering skill and experience in building Valve-in-Head motors assures the highest standard of performance obtainable today.

Every other unit is of a quality equal to the power plant. The whole assembly constitutes a perfectly balanced chassis which is of typical Buick construction. The equipment of Cord Tires is merely evidence of the quality which characterizes the entire car.

Two open and two closed body types mounted on the Buick built chassis comprise the new series.

Even the most casual inspection of the details of design and workmanship will reveal that full measure of quality which motorists have learned to associate with Buick.

Obviously a high grade automobile—a genuine Buick production—the prices listed below make this great Four even greater. A value such as this is possible only because of the combination of Buick engineering skill devoted to the one ideal of quality, Buick production facilities developed over nearly a quarter of a century, and Buick's nation-wide distribution and service organization.

The Buick Motor Company is proud of the Buick Four. It has the faith of long experience in this newest addition to its line. It places upon it unreservedly the Buick guarantee carried by every Buick automobile produced. That its confidence is well placed is manifested not only by the keen interest with which motorists have awaited this announcement, but also the advance orders placed by distributors, dealers, and the general public.

The Success of the Horton Electric Washer

is purely the result of the extraordinary merits of this machine. Coupled with an ever increasing demand for Electric Washers.

The clothes will be washed cleaner than by hand.

Do washings in one-fourth of the time.

There will be much less wear on the clothes.

There will be no longer the dread of washing days.

The costs of operation is about two cents an hour.

It will add many years to your life.

It will give you better service than many machines costing twice as much.

Let us explain the mechanical merits of this wonderful Machine.
